TRUMP CALLS FOR UNITY IN HIS FIRST ADDRESS AFTER ASSASSINATION BID

After formally accepting his third presidential nomination from the Republican Party, Donald Trump on Thursday said he will work for all

‘WILL BE PRESIDENT FOR ALL OF AMERICA’

Starting his 92-minute speech in a soothing and calm manner, he promised he would be a president “for all of America”, including Democrats, saying he wanted to heal the divided country. The 78-year-old also recounted in detail the attempt to assassinate him last Saturday, which he said deeply affected him, and narrated how sad he was about a supporter killed by the gunman

DON TAKES POTSHOTS AT BIDEN, PELOSI

- “I am not supposed to be here tonight. I stand before you... only by the grace of almighty God,” Trump said, recounting the assassination attempt on him
- However, a few minutes into the speech, Trump shed his new-found softer image and wore his familiar bombastic avatar calling Joe Biden “the worst president in US history” and former House Speaker “crazy Nancy Pelosi”

● MASSIVE TECH BLACKOUT AFFECTS AIRLINES, BANKS, MEDIA OUTLETS ● CHAOS AT MAJOR AIRPORTS AS OPERATIONS DISRUPTED ● INDIGO CANCELS OVER 200 FLIGHTS

Tech outage cripples world

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi/Mumbai/Bengaluru

AIRLINES, banks, media outlets, and financial institutions across the world were on Friday thrown into turmoil by one of the biggest IT crashes in recent histoy, caused by an update to an antivirus programme. The mass IT outage came after some widely used Microsoft 365 applications and services shut down for hours as a result of the update. There were unprecedented chaos in major cities, including in India, with flights grounded, communication shut down, and shops closed.

Millions encountered the Blue Screen of Death (BSOD) error, causing sudden system shutdowns or restarts. Microsoft, which said it was actively working to fix the outage, attributed the BSOD issue to a recent update by cybersecurity firm CrowdStrike, which admitted that its action affected Windows devices.

In India, almost all the airlines and major airports were affected as they struggled to provide online booking, web check-ins, and flight status updates. IndiGo cancelled around 200 flights across the country.

SpiceJet, Air India, Akasa, and Vistara also faced disruptions due to a technical error in Microsoft Azure, the cloud computing platform that powers critical systems. Throughout the day, airlines were seen doing manual check-ins and issuing hand-written boarding passes.Operations at key airports such as Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai and Bengaluru were badly hit, leaving thousands of passengers stranded. Aviation minister Ram Mohan Naidu said his ministry and Airports Authority of India are actively managing the situation.

Banking regulator RBI in a statement said that critical systems of most banks are not in cloud and that only a few banks are using the CrowdStrike tool, which created the chaos. “Our assessment shows that only 10 banks and NBFCs had minor disruptions, which have either been resolved or are being resolved. Overall, the Indian financial sector in the Reserve Bank’s domain remains insulated from the global outage,” an RBI statement read.

Auto major Maruti Suzuki India said it had briefly halted production and dispatch operations due to the outage.

Although many IT employees found it difficult to log into Microsoft applications on Friday, no major setbacks were reported for the IT industry except production downtime. “Those who were using Microsoft Azure were not able to login,” an IT employee said.

Meanwhile, in a statement around 7 in the evening, CrowdStrike said that the issue has been identified, isolated and a fix has been deployed. P2,12,13

What exactly happened and how it created chaos

Microsoft said the issue began at 1900 GMT on Thursday, after a defective update to CrowdStrike Falcon, an IT solution designed to protect Windows systems, ended up crashing the systems instead

What is CrowdStrike that caused the chaos

CrowdStrike is a US-based cybersecurity firm that provides incident response and threat hunting services. It is known for its expertise in detecting and responding to advanced threats

Over 2,600 flights cancelled globally

Out of more than 1,10,000 scheduled commercial flights on Friday, 2,691 have been cancelled globally, according to aviation analytics firm Cirium

Will probe all scams during BJP rule: Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

WITH Opposition BJP and JDS legislators trying to corner him over the alleged financial irregularities in the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday went on an offensive by declaring that his government would get all scams during the BJP rule probed and send those involved in them to jail.

“They should understand, we are not scared of the ED (Enforcement Directorate) or BJP,’’ the CM said while responding to Opposition parties’ allegations in the Assembly. The CM accused BJP of using ED as its tool, while its legislators made allegations against the government on the instructions of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS).

Later addressing reporters, Siddaramaiah admitted to the scam in the ST corporation and said that his government has taken measures to ensure transparency in transaction of funds released to all boards and corporations.

Earlier in the Assembly, the CM said that during BJP’s rule, several scams happened. “Ours is not Yediyurappa or Basavaraj Bommai government to let go those who embezzle government money. We are not going to spare anyone. We will not compromise with corruption,” he said.

The previous government did not take any action against corruption or people involved in it. This resulted in rampant corruption now, he said.

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS
@ Gangavathi (Koppal)

THREE youngsters, who slept on a railway track after partying, were run over by a train in Koppal district on Thursday night.

Mounish Pattar, 23, Sunil, 23, and Venkat Bhimanaik of Hirejantakal village in Gangavathi taluk of Koppal district started partying on the railway track at an isolated place in the village in the evening. After having a couple of drinks, they slipped into slumber on the track. The train, which was proceeding to Sindhanoor from Hubballi, ran over them around 9.30 pm.

The incident came to light after the loco pilot alerted the station guard at Sindhanoor.

Sunil completed his graduation a few days ago, while Mounish and Venkatesh were pursuing higher studies. Mounish’s father owns a shop near Anjanadri Hanuman temple, a senior police officer said.

The body of Sunil was sent to Maski, his hometown, in Raichur district, after postmortem, the officer said.

SC to examine contours of guv’s immunity from criminal prosecution

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday decided to examine the contours of the blanket Constitutional immunity governors in harness have from criminal prosecution, after hearing a plea filed by a woman employee of the West Bengal Raj Bhavan. She alleged that she was sexually harassed by incumbent Governor C V Ananda Bose.

Article 361 of Constitution says no criminal or civil proceedings shall be instituted or continued against the President, or the Governor, in any court during his term of office.

A three-judge bench led by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud asked Attorney General R Venkataramani to assist in the case and issued notice to the state government on the plea filed by the woman contractual staffer.

“The petition raises the issue pertaining to the ambit of the protection which is afforded to the governor under clause (2) of Article 361 of the Constitution,” the bench said in its order of issuing notice to the state government and others.

The court granted liberty to the petitioner to implead the Union government as a party in the petition.

Senior lawyer Shyam Divan, appearing for the petitioner, argued that Article 361 should not be a bar against investigation. “Evidence has to be gathered right now. It cannot be deferred indefinitely,” he said.

The woman employee had moved the court on July 4 seeking a thorough probe into the case by the police and guidelines on the immunity enjoyed by governors. The victim claimed the governor called her on April 24 and May 2 on the pretext of offering a better job, but allegedly harassed her sexually within Raj Bhavan.

Indian evacuation from Bangladesh begins, stir toll 105

YESHI SELI AND PRASANTA MAZUMDAR
@ New Delhi/Guwahati

WITH the situation in Bangladesh continuing to remain volatile and the toll of the student unrest over a contentious quota order reaching 105 on Friday, hundreds of Indian students have started streaming into the country.

India was careful not to comment on the situation, with External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal saying, “We see this as an internal matter of the country.’’

Till Thursday, over 300 people, mostly students from India, Nepal and Bhutan, were evacuated via Dawki in Meghalaya. The Meghalaya government said 202 Indians — 198 students and four tourists — were evacuated. The students included 67 from Meghalaya, 95 from Nepal and seven from Bhutan. “On Friday, 96 students crossed the border at Gede-Darshana around 5.30 pm. None of the students waiting to cross back was left behind. Another batch of over 100 students are expected to cross into India during at night,’’ according to a source.

“Around 13 Nepalese students were also permitted to enter India after their embassy made an official request,’’ the source added.

The Indian Railways cancelled the Kolkata-Dhaka Maitree Express on Saturday and Bandhan Express between Kolkata and Khulna on Sunday. There are over 15,000 Indians in Bangladesh, of which 8,500 are students. The Assam government has sought the Centre’s help for the evacuation of students stranded in the neighbouring country.

UP, U’KHAND HARDEN STANCE ON KANWAR

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

A day after it toned down the Muzaffarnagar police’s order asking eateries and shops along the Kanwar Yatra route to display their owners’ names, the Yogi Adityanath-led government in Uttar Pradesh on Friday hardened its stance, saying the order will now be applicable across the state. Meanwhile, Uttarakhand CM Pushkar Singh Dhami said similar orders to display the names, addresses, and mobile phone numbers of owners are already in place in his state.

The Muzaffarnagar police had on Monday issued an order instructing hotels, roadside eateries, and shops that fall on the yatra route to display the names of their owners to enable the pilgrims to take informed decisions and maintain the sanctity of their faith. However, after the authorities were panned for allegedly trying to target Muslim traders, the order was reviewed on Thursday and it was left to the ‘free will’ of the eateries owners to display their names.

With the latest government decision, displaying the information will be mandatory. Kanwar Yatra will commence on July 22 with the advent of the Hindu month of Shravan and conclude on August 2.

The authorities have also made it clear that stringent action will be taken against those selling ‘halal-certified’ products.

OUTAGE HITS 53 FLIGHTS, PAPER CHECK-IN LEADS TO LONG QUEUES

77 flights suffer massive delays, most from IndiGo

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FRIDAY turned out to be miserable for flyers in Bengaluru as 28 departing flights from the Kempegowda International Airport and 25 incoming flights were cancelled abruptly due to a Microsoft system outage globally. At least 77 flights suffered considerable delays. Most of the cancelled flights were operated by IndiGo.

With airlines failing to alert flyers about cancellations, hundreds had to go back, spending money on travel both ways.

With the check-in of flyers done manually and a paper boarding pass issued inside the terminal, queues moved very slowly in both Terminal 1 & 2. "Flights had to be cancelled due to the huge pile-up of flyers queuing up for checks," said an airport source. Both incoming and outgoing flights were delayed for an average of 45-50 minutes.

Vibhor V, a consultant in Analytics, had completed the web check-in and had the boarding pass too on hand, and he travelled from Bannerghatta to board his Mumbai flight (6E 5376, with departure time of 7.15 pm). He told TNIE, "I reached by 4.15 pm, but the CISF staff did not permit me to enter the terminal. They tried to scan my boarding pass and it could not be done. They said my flight is cancelled as per their records. They asked me to visit the Indigo counter." When he reached that counter, he saw hundreds waiting for the refund. "IndiGo said they could not give me the refund immediately as the systems were not working. They also could not reschedule my flight for the next day as they did not know the flying status of the next day too," he added.

He paid Rs 1,000 as taxi fare to reach the airport and paid a similar amount to go back.

Those who tried booking tickets for future travel too suffered. Karthik Ramanath was booking a round trip ticket from Bengaluru to Mumbai around noon. "I booked my onward ticket from Bengaluru to Mumbai on July 31. It got booked. When I tried booking the return ticket, it said the server was down and I could not do so. But the fare was deducted. I got a mail later saying my fare will be reimbursed within five days," he said.

Cancelled flights

An Airports Authority of India source said, "Most cancelled flights from Bengaluru were operated by IndiGo. No international or cargo flight was cancelled."

BIAL version

A spokesperson of Bangalore International Airport Ltd said, "Global outage with the Navitaire Departure Control System has been affecting operations of some airlines across their network, including Bengaluru Airport since 10:40 am on July 19. IndiGo, Akasa and SpiceJet in T1 and Air India Express in T2 are among the impacted airlines. The Common Use Terminal Equipment and Common Use Self Service systems are also experiencing disruptions."

Surveys reveal trove of birds and butterflies at Dorekere tank

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A series of surveys conducted at the 28-acre tank in Dorekere, Uttarahalli, highlighted the diverse species of herbs, shrubs, trees, butterflies, and birds thriving in the area. Findings of the surveys revealed 29 exotic species and 44 native species of herbs, over 57 species of trees amounting to almost 768 trees, and 63 resident bird species, along with 11 migratory species. A total of 26 species of butterflies were also identified during the survey.

On a morning walk at the Dorekere tank, walkers can spot five nesting species, including the Oriental darter, grey heron and black-crowned night heron and 15 roosting species including black-headed ibis, painted stork, glossy ibis, cattle egret, rosy, starling and great cormorant.

The report released by NGO ActionAid Association also highlighted the need to improve and preserve the Dorekere tank as a biodiversity hotspot. The survey was conducted over a period of 12 months. The butterfly surveys were conducted four times from June 2023 to May 2024 for accurate reporting. Interestingly, all surveys were conducted as part of nature walks, encouraging local communities which included children and adults. Raghavendra B Pachhapur, Senior Project Lead at ActionAid Association, said that biodiversity documentation is the first step to understanding the living entities at the tank and sensitising the local community.

Bloated power bills shock people, Bescom cites over-consumption

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

MANY consumers in the city and other parts of the state have been in shock since June, as they are receiving electricity bills that are more than their regular monthly bills.

These Additional Security Deposit (ASD) bills from electricity supply companies are for consuming more power. The ASD ranges from Rs 250-2,500. To make matters worse, consumers are asked to pay the bills within seven days in cash at the nearest electricity supply company office as online payments are not being accepted.

"We had not got such a bill so far. This is the first time. We had no option but to pay it as we did not want power supply to be disconnected. There was no one at Bescom to explain this to us," said Vibha K, a resident from Bengaluru. Consumers, who were getting zero bills under the Gruha Jyothi scheme, too have received ASD bills along with the electricity meter bills. Most such consumers are under the Bangalore Electricity Supply Company (Bescom) limits.

The amount billed for the first quarter of this financial year is equal to that of the last financial year. As per Bescom data, from 24,28,596 installations, Rs 450.94 crore has been billed for the financial year 2024-25. Last year, Rs 450 crore was received from the 23,99,602 installations.

A Bescom official said, "This year, the amount and consumers being given ASD is more, as summer was harsh and prolonged."

Bescom Director (Finance) Darshan J told The New Indian Express that generally around 0.5% of consumers get ASD bills annually. It depends on consumption. "On an average, most consumers opt for meters of 1KW power consumption as fixed charges are less and also people assume that they will consume less. But over time, consumption increases. Based on the rise in consumption for a couple of months, ASD bills are generated. These bills were not being generated earlier as meter reading was manual. But since it has been digitised, meter readings are compared and calculated and ASDs are generated automatically," he added.

The amount is like a penalty for consuming more power. The collected amount is utilised for transformer enhancement and maintenance. It is also used in repairing lines, which might have got damaged during power fluctuations, the official added.

'Brand B'luru' takes a beating near seat of power

RAKSHITH GOWDA @ Bengaluru

IS the state government serious about transforming Bengaluru into a world-class city with its ambitious 'Brand Bengaluru' concept? The answer seems to be no. For, garbage lying on the iconic Vidhana Soudha premises is a testimony to this.

Lawmakers and visitors, who went to Vidhana Soudha where the monsoon session is under way, were greeted by heaps of garbage dumped near Gate 2 (West) on Friday.

Plastic carry bags, used tea cups, water bottles, food wrappers and other waste not only put the visitors to inconvenience, but also raised serious concerns over Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike's efficiency in garbage collection in the IT city.

A group of visitors said, "This indicates the sorry state of affairs in the city's civic body. If this is the situation at Vidhana Soudha, considered the seat of power, one can imagine the plight elsewhere in the city.

This correspondent found the lawns of Vidhana Soudha littered with plastic water bottles, carry bags and other waste. Garbage was also found near the parking zone for legislators.

Savithri, a teacher from Jayanagar, who visited Vidhana Soudha to witness the monsoon session, said, "It is disgusting to see garbage on the premises of Vidhana Soudha. The authorities should take stern action against those responsible for it."

Criticising the state government for the mess around Vidhana Soudha, another visitor Ramesh sought to know if the "Brand Bengaluru" concept is only for publicity. Even banned plastic carry bags were seen on the lawns of Vidhana Soudha, he said.

A police officer deployed near Gate 2 stated that garbage has been lying on the Vidhana Soudha premises for the past two days.

Dr Harish Kumar, Special Commissioner, Bengaluru Solid Waste Management Limited, could not be reached for his comments.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

20TH July : As we find out more and more about the possibility of life on distant planets in other solar systems, my thought turns to what sort of astrology they will have, if any. Of course, in a sense it doesn't matter. Cosmic truth will always find a way to communicate with us, whatever the stars say, perhaps in ways we never expected.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Although the weekend looks relatively relaxed, you can never forget that you're an Aries. The long-term outlook is stormy, and recent disputes could soon come to a point of no return. It is time to face up to the truth on a number of personal issues, and do what you can to recreate a more harmonious situation.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
The current energetic plane-tary conditions may be to your liking, but in reality you're ready to enter a less stressful phase of existence. Whether this will come to pass or not is another matter and, as the weeks pass, the range of options open to you will increase.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
As there's an emotional Moon shining today, it's unlikely you'll have any real chance to relax. It's much better to keep on the go, but try to maintain your sense of self-preservation and avoid needless risks. Watch out if you're handling cash - you could be dreaming of great riches but about to make a blunder!

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Tense planetary alignments could work to your advantage if only you are able to concentrate your efforts. If you ignore routine interests now, you may find that next week's plans unravel. The best advice, therefore, is to do the minimum necessary to keep your life ticking over - and spare time for a little fun.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
When the Moon supports your sign, as happens today, you tend to feel that the world is on your side. You'll find that a more open and flexible approach will deal with most routine problems. Even if you travel for pleasure, the results could be a shift of direction in a major long-term ambition.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Today's stars will bring a boost to your energy, but only if you're in a receptive mood. Personal relationships require careful handling and you might have to put someone else's interests first, at least for today. Your financial sense is more shrewd than ever, so you are in an excellent position to pick up a bargain.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's been a week of uncertainty at work in spite of your undoubted achievements, and you're in need of a rest. However, domestic chores require attention and partners will keep you on the go. Yet, for once, you know best. If partners don't realise this, that's their problem!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Today's stars continue unsettling trends, but only in a mild sense. Actually, you can enjoy the fact that the future is up for grabs. Yet you must never give way to complacency, otherwise you'll lose control. The moment you relax, there'll be a minor crisis to cope with.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Domestically, you may get the feeling that everything is working against you. However, you'll be surprised how soon partners come round to your way of thinking, with a little tact and sweet talk. Children and younger relations need a steadying hand, and you're just the person to provide it.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Restless conditions are bound to affect every area of your life, and you're not in an ideal position to withstand disturbances to your routine. Make the most of every positive opportunity and try to see the present time as an excellent opportunity to deal with long-standing irritations.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Money matters should be treated delicately, as mistakes could be costly. If you're concerned about a particular transaction, there's much to be gained from seeking a second, more experienced, opinion. An emotional relationship could be hard work but every extra effort will be worth it.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may be gearing up for big changes, but at all costs don't allow yourself to be drawn into arguments that are of other people's making. Stick to your own course and do what you know is right. If you see the chance to make a profit, go all out - there's no point in being sentimental.

In the midst of a challenging political landscape, Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has been navigating through the complexities of the Valmiki Corporation scam, which came to light earlier this year. The scandal, involving the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation (KMVSTDC), has sparked widespread controversy and posed significant challenges for the state government. Despite the turmoil, Siddaramaiah has demonstrated resilience and a commitment to transparency and justice.

The Unveiling of the Scam

The scam came to public attention following the tragic suicide of Chandrasekaran P., a 52-year-old corporation superintendent. His suicide note revealed alarming details of corruption, implicating several officials in the misappropriation of Rs 88 million out of the Rs 187 million earmarked for developmental projects. The funds were illicitly transferred to an unauthorised account at the Union Bank of India's MG Road branch, raising questions about the integrity of the corporation's operations.

Swift and Decisive Action

Upon learning about the scam, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah wasted no time in taking decisive action. He immediately ordered a comprehensive investigation into the matter, ensuring that no stone was left unturned. The formation of the Special Investigation Team (SIT) was a crucial step in this direction, tasked with uncovering the truth and holding those responsible accountable.

Siddaramaiah's approach to handling the crisis has been marked by transparency and a commitment to justice. He has been vocal about the need for a thorough investigation, emphasising that the guilty, irrespective of their position or influence, would face the full force of the law. This stance has been crucial in maintaining public trust and demonstrating the government's dedication to rooting out corruption.

The Role of the SIT

The SIT's investigation revealed that the scam involved the misappropriation of approximately Rs 94 crore, with funds being funneled into multiple accounts linked to fictitious entities. The team, working under Siddaramaiah's directive, made several arrests, including high-ranking officials and bank personnel. The SIT's diligent work led to the freezing of numerous bank accounts and the tracking of the illicit flow of money, showcasing the government's resolve to recover the defrauded funds.

Political Fallout and Opposition Criticism

The political ramifications of the scam have been significant, with opposition parties, particularly the BJP, demanding Siddaramaiah's resignation. They accused the state government of sluggishness in handling the probe, comparing it unfavorably to other high-profile investigations. However, Siddaramaiah remained steadfast, defending the integrity of the SIT and its efforts.

In the legislative assembly, Siddaramaiah faced intense scrutiny, but he responded with candor. He acknowledged the misuse of funds and reiterated his commitment to ensuring that justice would be served. His transparency in addressing the issue head-on has been pivotal in countering opposition claims and maintaining a focus on resolving the matter.

Upholding Accountability and Integrity

Throughout this tumultuous period, Siddaramaiah's leadership has been characterised by firm commitment to accountability and integrity. He has consistently called for a fair and impartial investigation, resisting any attempts to politicise the issue. His focus has remained on ensuring that the developmental funds intended for the Scheduled Tribes reach their rightful beneficiaries.

Moreover, Siddaramaiah's administration has taken steps to prevent future occurrences of such scams. By strengthening oversight mechanisms and implementing stricter financial controls within the corporation, the government aims to safeguard public funds and restore faith in the system.

A Vision for Justice and Development

In the face of the Valmiki Corporation scam, Siddaramaiah's leadership has emerged as a symbol of resilience and integrity. His decisive actions, commitment to transparency, and stern focus on justice have highlighted his dedication to the welfare of Karnataka's people. As the SIT continues its investigation, Siddaramaiah's vision for a corruption-free administration and equitable development remains staunch.

Despite the challenges, Siddaramaiah's handling of the scam demonstrates his capacity to lead with integrity and purpose. His efforts to ensure accountability and justice not only address the immediate crisis but also lay the foundation for a more transparent and trustworthy governance in Karnataka.

"The opposition is trying to politicise this issue"

The SIT has already arrested 12 individuals involved in the scam, including high-ranking officials. We are leaving no stone unturned in this investigation. Our government will not shield anyone involved in corrupt practices, regardless of their position. We have a zero-tolerance policy towards corruption. My administration's commitment to the welfare of the Scheduled Tribes is firm and the funds allocated for their development are sacred. We are ensuring that the misappropriated funds are recovered and utilised for their intended purpose. I am dedicated to serving the people of Karnataka. Our government is built on the principles of transparency, integrity, and justice. We will continue to work tirelessly to uphold these values and ensure the welfare of our citizens. I understand the importance of accountability within financial institutions. We are collaborating with the banks involved to ensure that such lapses do not occur in the future. Our focus is on strengthening oversight mechanisms and ensuring that the highest standards of integrity are maintained.

-SIDDARAMAIAH,
Chief Minister, Karnataka

During a press conference held yesterday, Siddaramaiah declared the integrity of his party and his dedication to his role as the Chief Minister of Karnataka. "Our government is committed to rooting out corruption and ensuring that those responsible are held accountable," he stated firmly.

Corporation superintendent Chandrasekaran's suicide note detailed the corruption and implicated several officials. In response, Siddaramaiah's administration swiftly initiated a comprehensive investigation. The Chief Minister stressed, "We have taken immediate action by constituting a Special Investigation Team (SIT) to thoroughly investigate the matter."

The SIT, along with the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) and the Enforcement Directorate (ED), has been diligently working to uncover the full extent of the scam. Several arrests have been made, and significant progress has been reported in recovering the misappropriated funds. "As of now, Rs 85 crores and Rs 25 lakhs have been recovered," Siddaramaiah announced. "Our commitment is to recover every single rupee and ensure it reaches the rightful beneficiaries."

He emphasised that the government is not saying that there were no irregularities in the case. He also pointed out that during the legislative session, opposition party members expressed their views on the matter for over seven hours under Rule 69. "Just as opposition parties have the opportunity to express their opinions in a parliamentary system, the government also has the right to state its position," he stated.

Siddaramaiah also addressed the political fallout and accusations from the opposition. "The opposition is trying to politicise this issue," he remarked. "However, our focus remains on ensuring justice and upholding the law. We will not be distracted by baseless allegations."

He highlighted the transparency of the investigation process. "The SIT has already arrested 12 individuals involved in the scam, including high-ranking officials. We are leaving no stone unturned in this investigation," Siddaramaiah assured. The arrests include the corporation's managing director, JG Padmanabh, accountant Parasurama Durugannavar, and several others linked to the fraudulent activities.

Siddaramaiah also pointed out the swift actions taken against those implicated, including the resignation of Minister B Nagendra following the ED raids on his premises. "Our government will not shield anyone involved in corrupt practices, regardless of their position," he asserted. "We have a zero-tolerance policy towards corruption."

Emphasising his administration's commitment to the welfare of the Scheduled Tribes, Siddaramaiah stated, "The funds allocated for the development of Scheduled Tribes are sacred. We are ensuring that the misappropriated funds are recovered and utilised for their intended purpose."

Siddaramaiah reiterated his dedication to serving the people of Karnataka. "Our government is built on the principles of transparency, integrity, and justice. We will continue to work tirelessly to uphold these values and ensure the welfare of our citizens," he affirmed.

Siddaramaiah questioned why BJP leaders did not resign during the Bhoomi Development Corporation scam or the Rs 47.10 crore irregularity in the Devaraj Urs Truck Terminal scandal during the BJP regime. He also questioned why the ED did not take up those cases on its own initiative.

The Chief Minister also emphasised the importance of accountability within financial institutions. "We are collaborating with the banks involved to ensure that such lapses do not occur in the future," he stated. "Our focus is on strengthening oversight mechanisms and ensuring that the highest standards of integrity are maintained."

Siddaramaiah emphasised that the government is not saying that there were no irregularities in the case. He also pointed out that during the legislative session, opposition party members expressed their views on the matter for over seven hours under Rule 69. Just as opposition parties have the opportunity to express their opinions in a parliamentary system, the government also has the right to state its position.

Negligence and Oversight Failures

- Account Mismanagement: The corporation maintained an account with the MG Road Branch, Bangalore East. Key officials, including Suchismita Raul and Deepa D., were responsible for critical lapses in verifying the genuineness of signatures and authorising significant changes without proper verification.
- Unauthorised Changes: Raul, as Branch Head, and Deepa D., as Deputy Branch Head, failed to verify the legitimacy of requests to modify the email ID and mobile number linked to the KMVSTDCL account. This oversight allowed unauthorised individuals to gain control and initiate fraudulent transactions. Further, she posted/ verified 12 RTGS transactions transferred funds from the account of M/s KMVSTDCL in favour of various beneficiaries. The RTGS/NEFT transactions were done in favour of beneficiaries which were software companies and the quantum of the transactions was significantly large. However, despite that, she failed to identify that large amount of funds were being sent from the accounts of M/s.KMVSTDCL to beneficiaries which were not in tune with the line of activity of M/s. KMVSTDCL. She also failed to identify that all of the beneficiary accounts were maintained with RBL Bank, Banjara Hills, Hyderabad branch and that the accounts were sequentially numbered. Further, Ms. Deepa D also authorised the issuance of 2 Cheque books of 10 leaves each pertaining to the SB.
- Lack of Verification: Both officials failed to confirm the identity of Mr. Shivakumar, who was handed multiple cheque books without proper verification. This enabled the transfer of large sums of money to accounts that were not related to the corporation's activities.
- Unauthorised SOD Sanction: Ms. Raul sanctioned a substantial SOD limit of Rs 45 crore against a fixed deposit without obtaining necessary documents, further demonstrating the severity of the oversight.
- Negligence in Transaction Monitoring: The funds were transferred to multiple accounts with RBL Bank, all of which had sequential account numbers and were engaged in activities unrelated to KMVSTDCL. Both officials failed to notice these red flags and confirm the genuineness of the transactions.

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday admitted that a multi-crore scam occurred at the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribe Development Corporation (KMVSTDC) and said he has decided to take back all the money granted to all boards and corporations and deposit it at the treasury to avoid any scams in these entities the future.

"From now on, money will be released only after they submit the action plan. Also, funds will go to the concerned drawing officer. This is to bring transparency in financial transactions of all boards and corporations," he told reporters. "Instructions have already been issued to them to compulsorily deposit funds in their accounts to the state treasury. The Finance Department (FD) has taken measures and issued guidelines to bring in transparency," he asserted. In the case of ST corporation, he blamed officials at both the corporation and Union Bank of India. "We are not saying that there were no illegalities. But the government is not responsible for the scam," he clarified. On the investigation, he said, "The government has full confidence in the Special Investigation Team, which has been constituted to probe this case. We are committed to take appropriate action against perpetrators."

He said that during the ongoing legislature session, opposition members presented their views on the issue for over seven hours under Rule 69. Opposition parties have the right to express their views in the parliamentary system, and the government also has the right to express its position, he said.

He questioned Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka as to why he did not question the alleged involvement of Union Bank of India officers, including chief manager Suchismita Rawal, for the illegal transfer of money from the ST corporation. "Opposition parties have taken up a smear campaign against the state government and me," he alleged.

He asked whether former CMs BS Yediyurappa and Basavaraj Bommai resigned during their tenure when scams in boards and corporations, including misappropriation at the Devaraj Urs Truck Terminal and APMC. "We did not seek Bommai's resignation then, as he was not concerned with the scam in boards and corporations. ST corporation chairman Basanagouda Daddal is not an executive officer but was only part of the policy-making decisions as a legislator. Managing Director Padmanabha GJ was responsible for the financial transactions," he said. He questioned as to why the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has taken up the ST Corporation investigation suo motu, while it did not do so when BJP was in power.

"SIT has already arrested 12 people, recovered Rs 34 crore and frozen Rs 46 crore transferred illegally to various bank accounts," he informed.

The CM announced a compensation of Rs 25 lakh to Kavitha, the widow of deceased P Chandrashekaran— accounts superintendent of ST corporation. "She works as a data entry operator and is facing difficulties with the education of her children," he said.

ED QUESTIONS DADDAL ONCE AGAIN

The Directorate of Enforcement (ED), probing the alleged multi-crore scam in the Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Ltd, once again questioned Raichur Rural MLA Basanagouda Daddal, who is also the chairman of the corporation, on Friday. Daddal was issued a notice to appear before the ED for questioning after the Central agency allegedly found a document related to the scam at his residence. Daddal was also quizzed on Thursday. Earlier, the SIT constituted by the State Government also quizzed Daddal. The ED stated that the scam amount was used to buy liquor prior to the Lok Sabha elections and also to buy high-end cars.

BJP RESORTS TO 'KIVI MELE HOOVU' PROTEST

BJP MLAs on Friday protested against the State Government in the Assembly over the alleged scam in ST Corporation by singing, clapping and raising slogans to distract the Congress legislators speaking about rain havoc in their constituencies. The BJP MLAs rushed to the well of the House and raised slogans against the government. Chaos prevailed in the House for some time when Congress MLAs too raised slogans against the BJP. In the meantime, some BJP MLAs plucked flowers from pots near the Speaker's chair and kept them on their ears. They said the Congress government kept flowers on people's ears (kivi mele hoovu), which means it fooled innocent people. Speaker UT Khader summoned the marshals to shift the pots from near his desk.

₹300 CRORE SCAM DURING BJP RULE: DKS

BENGALURU: Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar on Friday alleged that the previous BJP government had siphoned off over Rs 300 crore from various departments. "There were scams in various departments amounting to Rs 300 crore. We will reveal the details in the House," he told the media. Shivakumar said that the State Government will investigate the scams and reveal the details in the House. He said BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal had said that the CM's post and minister's post cost Rs 2,500 crore and Rs 100 crore respectively, and another BJP leader Goolihatti Shekar had spoken about corruption in the Bhovi Development Corporation, but the BJP did not investigate them. The DyCM said they allowed a debate in the Assembly to uphold democratic principles and they don't want to protect any minister, MLA, or any officer if they are guilty. He said the BJP created a ruckus in the House without allowing the CM to respond as they were scared that their corruption would be exposed if they let the House function smoothly.

Uproar after BJP MLC says ₹20cr of corpn diverted for TG election

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BJP MLC N Ravikumar's allegation that Rs 20 crore belonging to the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Ltd was spent towards the elections in Telangana kicked up a storm in the Council on Friday.

The Upper House, which had witnessed a heated debate over the issue on Thursday, was again rocked by the alleged multi-crore scam on Friday. Asking why the money meant for the development of people belonging to Scheduled Tribes was sent to the bank account of a cooperative bank in Telangana, where elections were held, MLC Ravikumar said that there are reports that Rs 20 crore has been sent to Ballari as well. Continuing, he said the money was transferred to close to 700 accounts. "It is said that those who withdrew the money kept a commission of 5-8% and gave the remaining amount to a minister," the MLC alleged.

While Congress MLCs took strong objection to the allegation, Labour Minister Santosh Lad raised a point of order, requesting the chairman to expunge the allegations as they were baseless.

Ravikumar said, "I can swear anywhere that this money is used for Telangana elections." This led to an uproar in the House following which the proceedings were suspended for 10 minutes. When the House reconvened, the government's Chief Whip Saleem Ahmed demanded that the allegation should be withdrawn and Ravikumar should tender an apology, while other Congress MLCs demanded Ravikumar to produce proof for his allegation as neither SIT, ED, or CBI, which are probing the case, has made such claims.

As Deputy Chairman MK Pranesh requested the members to maintain order, Lad requested that the Chair should restrict the allegations made by the members.

In reply, Pranesh said the Chair can decide what is parliamentary and unparliamentary, stating that the Chair can't accept the request to expunge words every time it is made.

Meanwhile, Congress MLC Puttanna stood up demanding proof for the claims made by Ravikumar and it led to pandemonium and the House was adjourned to Monday.

BJP releases 'rate card' for posts, Cong hits back

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BJP MLCs on Friday staged a protest against the State Government by displaying 'rate cards' of alleged corruption in different departments.

Former minister and MLC CT Ravi said that corruption is rampant in the Congress government and the rate is fixed for transfers and postings in all departments. "We have staged a protest against the corrupt Congress government with rate cards. This is 100% true and anyone can verify it," Ravi said. The BJP leader alleged that in Bengaluru, the Urban Development Department fixed rates for change of land use and floor-area ratio, while the Home Department has fixed the rates for postings of inspectors and assistant commissioners. Ravi alleged that rates ranging from Rs 50 lakh to Rs 2 crore are fixed for postings of engineers, sub-registers, RTOs, and many other posts in various government departments.

He said they have exposed the financial irregularities in the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Ltd and now presenting the 'rate card' before people.

People rejected BJP: Cong

State Congress working president and MLC Manjunath Bhandary hit back saying the BJP had fixed rates for all the posts, including CM and DyCM and people rejected them.

Bhandary said after Congress returned to power, transfers are done through counselling to ensure transparency.

BJP's intention is to paint me and my govt black: Siddaramaiah

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah said there have been many bank fraud cases in the past five to six years. "Under whom do these banks come?'' he questioned, blaming those cases on Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman and Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

In the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribe Development Corporation (KMVSTDC), frauds happened earlier and his (Siddaramaiah's) government is trying to expose them, he said.

"We have recovered more than Rs 84 crore from the accused and we will get back the remaining funds too,'' he added.

He sought data from BJP members on how much scam money they had recovered during their rule. "We are sending people involved in scams to jail and bringing the money back. But you (BJP) did not make any such attempt and did not bring any money back," he said.

The Chief Minister said the ST corporation scam was probed by Special Investigation Team, CBI and ED.

"Who are all involved and from where money was sent to whom will all come out only after the probe is completed. At this juncture, I cannot tell who are all involved. This will mislead the probe agencies. Once the probe is completed, we will take action against them and recover the money embezzled,'' he said.

The state government has suspended a few officials. The SIT has arrested some of them. B Nagendra resigned as tribal welfare minister and the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) arrested him, Siddaramaiah elaborated.

The Chief Minister said the finance department has no role in this scam. As mentioned in the budget, the finance department released funds to the ST corporation in four installments. The drawing and disbursing officer of the ST Welfare Department transferred funds to the MD of the ST corporation. He also explained how funds from the ST corporation went to RBL Bank in Hyderabad.

He alleged that BJP's intention is to put a black mark on him and damage his government's reputation by making allegations of misusing SC/ST funds. But that will not happen, the Chief Minister said.

Siddaramaiah said funds allotted to the SCs and STs will be utilised only for their welfare. "We will not allow even a rupee to be misused,'' he added.

POLITICAL THEATRE

Reclining chairs, breakfast, lunch... only to make MLAs attend session

Bengaluru: The MLAs' lounge in the Assembly now has reclining chairs for legislators to take "rest", said Speaker UT Khader. This will stop MLAs from stepping out of Vidhana Soudha for rest during House proceedings, he reasoned. To save time for MLAs, he has also arranged breakfast and lunch so that members can come to the House on time. "With this, MLAs need not have to step out for lunch and come late to the House after the lunch break," he said. Khader said he has noticed some MLAs going to the Legislators' Home post lunch to take rest, but they never come back for the session. "Now, they can take a rest or nap on the new recliner chairs kept in the MLAs' lounge. They can sleep there and it is easy for their party leaders to find them. If needed, they can be called inside the House. Right now, we have got a few seats and in the coming days, we will get a few more," he added. He appealed to MLAs to restrict their personal assistants inside the lounge. "That makes it crowded. Also, do not argue with marshals and pressure them to allow your people inside. You should cooperate with marshals," he pleaded. He urged MLAs not to bring placards inside the House during proceedings.

'SCSP/TSP funds not diverted'

Social Welfare Minister Dr HC Mahadevappa said the Scheduled Caste Sub- Plan/Tribal Sub-Plan (SCSP/TSP) funds were not diverted for other purposes and were being utilised for the benefit of SCs and STs. The minister said there was no provision to use the SCSP/TSP funds for other projects other than the welfare of people from the SC/ST communities. He said in the current fiscal, Rs 1,587.09 crore under SCSP and Rs 641.28 crore under TSP was spent on four guarantee schemes under which over 1.46 crore people belonging to the SC/ST communities were benefited, while there was no caste-wise data of beneficiaries under the 'Shakti' scheme, he added.

MY TAKE

Gain victory over landslide losses — prevent them!

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

THE July 16 landslide in Ankola taluk on the Karwar-Kumta stretch of National Highway (NH)-66 which claimed at least seven lives, besides a series of other landslides, including the one blocking the busy NH-75 connecting Bengaluru with Mangaluru, have led to many reconsidering weekend plans involving long drives on national, state or district highways.

It is the disaster that has been seeded in their minds, discouraging them from presenting any opportunity to be victimized by possible similar catastrophes. The images of tonnes of rocks and soil blanketing NH-66 near Shirur in Ankola taluk are likely sending chills down their spines.

The tragedy reportedly buried a whole roadside eatery with an entire family, carried a gasoline tanker along with its occupants into the adjoining Gangavalli River, and buried two other lorries and another family travelling in a car, which has remained under tonnes of debris that cascaded down on them. Most of them — some still unidentified — still lie buried under the humongous pile, which makes heavy earthmovers brought to the spot look like little toys in comparison.

The incident should not be looked at in isolation, rather a close look needs to be taken at why it occurred and what needs to be done to prevent such tragedies. A landslide rarely occurs without anthropogenic factors at play. Maladies originate from man-made activities which, in the pursuit of rapid infrastructure development, blind the authorities to the possibilities of such disastrous consequences. Besides the casualties, the consequences include colossal loss in land and property. For instance, losses incurred due to the landslides in Kodagu a few years ago are estimated to be upwards of Rs 35,000 crore.

Landslides are such that even if there are no casualties, they drastically affect human lives. Both NH-66 and NH-75 (the latter landslide occurred a day after the former one) are busy roads which cater to heavy traffic linked to business & commerce, tourism, medical emergencies and general transport needs. In fact, any road connecting two destinations is just as important because they serve the very purpose of continuity of routines supporting life and everything related to it across regions. Roads are needed, and they are there for a purpose — to connect villages, towns and cities to facilitate a running economy, ensuring steady supplies of essentials needed for life and living.

Karnataka has a good road network. According to the Public Works Department, the state has 7,588.67 Km of national highways, 27,814.45 Km of state highways and 56,165.48 Km of major district roads. There are 14 national highways and 115 state highways, 14 of them (ghats) meandering through the eco-sensitive Western Ghats to connect Coastal Karnataka with Interior Karnataka.

That makes it all the more important for road engineers to apply due diligence while planning roads through the hills and mountain ranges. Unfortunately, experts have pointed out that while roads are being laid through such terrains, adequate prior scientific tests are not carried out except soil testing. The slopes of the hills are cut closer to vertical, posing a grave threat especially during heavy rains. Deforestation in this eco-sensitive region only makes it worse. Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda has been vociferously blaming the National Highways Authority of India for the tragic landslide in Ankola taluk, alleging poor scientific application while expanding NH-66 at the ill-fated spot.

When roads in the hills — or adjacent to hill slopes — are constructed, excavations have to be conducted into the hill face, the stability of which is of crucial importance to prevent massive cave-ins or landslides during heavy rains. The sedimentary rocks-laden road planes should be designed to slope away from the cut hill slopes. But before that, experts say, soil chemistry and non-destructive tests need to be conducted to assess the stress and endurance of the surface and subsurface soil, and the rocky structures that are embedded well within. Scientific means and accurate calculation models are available to assess how much prone to landslides particular regions are before planning roads there. If found to be unsafe, alternate plans can be explored instead of rushing through to lay the road and repent when catastrophic landslides occur due to the absence of adequate scientific application.

Frequent inspections on a scientific basis are needed to keep a check to prevent possible landslides. Safety is prime, and that cannot be compromised.

Min blames 'unscientific' NHAI works for landslide

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

REVENUE Minister Krishna Byre Gowda claimed that "unscientific" works implemented by the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) resulted in the recent landslide near Shirur near Ankola in Uttara Kannada district. Speaking in the Assembly on the impact of the monsoon, Gowda said the chief secretary has directed NHAI to rectify such works.

Gowda alleged that NHAI had cut the hill vertically where the landslide happened. "This stretch is filled with 5ft water. Officials are reaching the spot in trucks and not cars," he said.

On monsoon woes, Gowda said houses, bridges, roads, and power lines are damaged. Even fields are inundated. Damage is more concentrated in the coastal and malnad districts, as these regions witnessed record rain, he added. "We have kept Rs 777 crore for relief works, and we are ready to give more to the DCs. We were well prepared, as the IMD had forecast heavy rains,'' Gowda said. Gowda said the government has identified 2,225 gram panchayats as flood-prone pockets where over 2.38 lakh people reside. "At present, 1,247 GPs saw floods. We have formed a task force comprising fire and emergency services personnel, police, health, and women and child department officials. Once there is a red alert forecast, the task force gets activated," he added.

Lokayukta police unearth ₹49.85 cr DA from 12 officials

This is second massive raid in last 9 days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Lokayukta police on Friday found Rs 49.85 crore disproportionate assets (DA) after raiding 60 premises belonging to 12 officials of different departments across the state. This is the second such massive raid in the last nine days. On July 11, the Lokayukta police unearthed Rs 45.14 crore DA by raiding 56 locations of 11 officers.

Athar Ali, Deputy Controller, Legal Metrology Department in Bengaluru, allegedly threw a bag containing ornaments to a neighbouring building after seeing officials raiding his house in Bengaluru. Over 2 cases? 100m area to be dengue hotspot

WITH dengue cases crossing the 3,000-mark in the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) limits, Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao inaugurated a fever clinic at Ramaswamy palya slum.

Speaking to the media here on Friday, he said, "If there are more than two cases of dengue within a 100-metre area in the city, it should be identified as a hotspot. In addition, fever tests, larval surveys, fogging, spraying and distribution of handbills to prevent the spread of dengue should be carried out by visiting houses within the 100 metres. Apart from this, Deet (Odomos) mosquito repellent cream should be distributed, and the public should be asked to apply it on their hands and feet to ward off mosquitoes."

For mosquito control across the roads around the slums of Ramaswamypalya, the health minister himself conducted fogging. He visited homes and distributed handbills, and appealed to the citizens to ensure that mosquitoes do not breed. He also stated that clean water will enable the breeding of mosquitoes and that water should be changed without being stored.

After visiting various places in the East Zone on Friday, he said a dialysis centre has not yet been established on the premises of the Vasanthnagar PHC. In this regard, under the Government Free Dialysis Service Scheme, dialysis service should be started at this location.

Meanwhile, in the wake of increasing dengue cases, nodal officers have been designated by the health department for dengue treatment in all government hospitals across Bengaluru (see box)*.

Move magistrate court for home food, Darshan told

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday asked actor Darshan, an accused in the S Renukaswamy murder case, to approach the magistrate court to avail home food, a bed and clothes, during his stay in prison. Directing the counsel of the accused to file the application before the magistrate on Saturday, the court directed the latter to decide the same by July 26.

Justice SR Krishna Kumar passed the order while adjourning the hearing to July 29, on the petition filed by Darshan seeking directions to the prison authorities to allow him to get home food, bed, clothes and books.

Before this, the prosecution had filed objections to the petition on the ground that the accused can give representation to the Inspector General of Prisons for home food and if the same is not considered, then he has to approach the magistrate court but he cannot approach the high court directly. This apart, the prosecution also contended that Darshan is not entitled to bed and clothes as he is an accused in a murder case, as per the prison manual. It also expressed concern about who will take the responsibility if something goes wrong if the accused is allowed to get food from home.

They put heart, sole to it, stole 10,000 pairs of shoes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TWO miscreants who were stealing branded shoes for the last seven years from apartment complexes and temples were arrested by the Vidyaranyapura police. The accused had stolen more than 10,000 pairs of shoes. When the police visited their house after arresting them, they were shocked to find around 715 pairs of branded shoes, and accordingly recovered Rs 10 lakh worth of shoes, along with other items.

The accused, identified as Gangadhar and Yellappa, were selling the stolen shoes in Ooty, Puducherry and other tourism hubs. They also used Sunday bazaars to sell the stolen shoes.

The accused would travel in an auto rickshaw at night and target homes and temples. After stealing the shoes, the duo would clean and sell them for cheap.

They had stolen shoes and two gas cylinders from a house in BEL Layout in Vidyaranyapura. The house owner filed a complaint on Monday. The police checked CCTV footage from the vicinity and got details of the auto used for the theft. The accused were traced and arrested on Wednesday.

KRS brimming, flood alert issued

Authorities directed to discharge 20K cusecs and increase it to over 50K cusecs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mandya

Basaveshwara temple near Mallanamoole on Mysuru-Ooty national highway under water | UDAYASHANKAR S

WITH rain battering Kodagu district, over five tmcft of water has flown into the Krishnaraja Sagar (KRS) reservoir in the last couple of days.

Irrigation officials are anticipating that the reservoir would fill to the brim in a day. The district administration has issued a flood alert directing the people in the low-lying areas to move to safer places.

The irrigation officials are closely monitoring the inflow and have decided to release water at any moment in the interest of dam safety.

Presiding over the meeting with officials, Deputy Commissioner Kumar said the inflow into the dam is pegged at 46,000 cusecs while the Hemavathi reservoir is also brimming which may lead to discharge of water from it as well causing the inflow into the KRS dam to 70,000 cusecs. The authorities are directed to discharge 20,000 cusecs and increase it to over 50,000 cusecs once the water level touches 120 feet at the KRS as against the maximum of 124.8 feet.

He said the India Metrological Department (IMD) has issued a red alert for Kodagu predicting heavy rains in the next five days. The DC directed officials to identify villages that will be affected if 1 to 2 lakh cusecs of water is discharged from the KRS.

The revenue officials are instructed that the 53 villages in Srirangapatna, 21 in Malavalli and 15 in Pandavapura taluks will be affected by the flood situation.

Keeping in mind the inconvenience caused to people residing in low-lying areas, Kumar asked officials to discharge water in phases.

The traffic came to a grinding halt on the road with heaps of mud on the road at the ghat section today.

Want chopper to search for bodies, says DC

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S @ Shirur (Ankola)

THE Uttara Kannada district administration has sought assistance from the Indian Coast Guard to help them in searching for the people who went missing in the landslide at Shirur in Ankola. However, there was no much progress on Friday, except for clearing landslides in some places.

The rescue and restoration work at Shirur continued, but the harsh terrain and heavy rainfall posed major hurdles for the rescue team.

The work to clear National Highway 66 as well as searching the missing persons began amid heavy downpour.

Considering the rough terrain, hostile weather, increase in water level in Gangavalli river and possibility of more landslides in the adjoining areas, the district administration on Friday wrote to the Indian Coast Guard seeking its help. "I have written to the Indian Coast Guard to send a helicopter to search for the bodies in the river and even in places where soil has deposited as these areas are beyond our reach," Lakshmi Priya, deputy commissioner, Uttara Kannada, told TNIE. However, the harsh weather has made the use of helicopter nearly impossible.

"These choppers are supposed to arrive from Goa, but they could not take off due to heavy rainfall. We are hoping for a favourable weather tomorrow so that the choppers can arrive," the DC said.

Centre of excellence for water mgmt in K'taka soon: Priyank

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Minister for IT, BT, and RDPR Priyank Kharge announced in the Council that the State Government will establish a centre of excellence for water management soon to address issues related to depletion of water sources.

Replying to a question by BJP MLC Bharathi Shetty on Friday, Priyank said that Karnataka was the most arid state in the country after Rajasthan despite having coastal and malnad regions. He said that the highest source depletion is reported from malnad in the last decade, which is alarming.

"Hence, with an aim to enrich water sources, the cabinet sub-committee has decided to establish a centre of excellence for water management. The blueprint of the same is being prepared and it will look into three major aspects - identification of source, preservation and conservation, and enrichment of sources. We need experts for this, as problems vary from region to region and we require specific solutions," the minister said.

Bill to protect cine artistes

The Karnataka Cine and Cultural Activists (Welfare) Bill 2024 was tabled in the Assembly on Friday. It proposes to constitute a welfare board and establish a fund for financing schemes to provide social security and welfare for cine and cultural artistes.

The bill says it is expedient to provide social security to these artistes by constituting a welfare board. Cine and cultural activists means any person who is employed in relation to the field of cinema to work as an artiste (including actor, musician or dancer) or to do any work, skilled, unskilled, manual supervisory, technical, artistic or otherwise or any person who is being engaged in such other activities as declared by the government by notification in the gazette for the purpose of this Act.

Climate change greatest of all challenges now: Nobel laureate

ENS @ Chennai

NOBEL Laureate Brian K Kobilka, addressing the 61st convocation of IIT Madras on Friday, said Artificial Intelligence (AI) is one of the many challenges the world is facing. "The evolution of AI is likely to lead to great advances in science and medicine. However, we now know that it can be used as a weapon," said Kobilka.

According to him, the other major challenges include the evolution of viruses that may spark another pandemic, the wars in the Middle East, Africa, and Ukraine that do not appear to have an end, the threat of nuclear confrontation, and poverty. "However, climate change is the greatest challenge of all," he noted.

Dhananjay Balakrishnan, the IIT Madras student who won the Governor's Prize for all-round proficiency in his dual degree, spoke at length about the situation in Palestine and termed it as "mass genocide", during the convocation event on Friday. "This is a call for action against the mass genocide in Palestine. People are dying and there is no end in sight." he said.

INVESTORS NEED TO BE CAUTIOUS ON SECTORAL FUNDS

INDIAN equity markets have been on a roll during the past year. Both Sensex and Nifty have risen by over 20 percent over the period. Mid-cap and small-cap indices have been much more generous to investors, with over 50 percent gains. These are, typically times when irrational exuberance leads to excesses, resulting in investors making mistakes, and subsequently incurring losses when the markets turn unfavourable. The surge in retail participation in the futures and options (F&O) segment of the market is one such worrying trend that has caught the market regulator's attention. The Securities and Exchange Board of India has already formed a committee to look into ways to curb participation in the F&O segment.

Similar kinds of exuberance are also playing out in the mutual fund space, with asset management companies lining up thematic and sectoral funds to cash in on the bullish market trends. The two themes that seem to be the flavours of the season are defence and manufacturing funds. Then there are others focused on new energy and automotive funds. Such themes are often sold with fancy predictions, and at times, with the promise of unrealistic returns. Retail investors must be wary of taking too big a bet on sector-specific funds, as these are, at best, 'flavours of the season'.

Mutual funds are considered an ideal investment option for retail investors, as by their very nature they offer diversified portfolios across companies, sectors, asset types and even geographies. Such a strategy helps in minimising sectoral or single-asset-related risks. Over the years, passive funds have emerged as better and cheaper options for investors as they try to replicate a particular index. A passive fund, over time, eliminates biases or errors committed by fund managers. During the last sustained bullish market trend between 2005 and 2008, mutual funds flooded investors with then-popular themes like infrastructure funds. We know how those funds fared after the massive crash in 2008 and then the sovereign debt crisis in 2011. Investors must be wary of repeating those mistakes. The key for investors is to have a diversified portfolio, invest in a disciplined manner and not get carried away when markets sway in one direction or the other.

TN MUST BALANCE PUBLIC SAFETY WITH CIVIL LIBERTY

THE state of law and order in Tamil Nadu has been a bone of contention between the DMK government and the opposition since 2021. However, recent events have brought matters to a head. First, in the aftermath of the Kallakurichi hooch tragedy in which 66 people lost their lives, it became evident that police had failed to sufficiently crack down on the menace since a similar incident in the same region had claimed over 20 lives the previous year. Worse, it emerged that it was an open secret that the illicit brew was being sold just metres from a police station. Next came the horrific murder, in public, of BSP state president K Armstrong in Chennai—again, just metres from the local police station. That the leader of a national political party could be so unsafe in his own neighbourhood caused a furore, with even DMK's allies Congress and VCK raising concerns. Armstrong was an Ambedkarite leader fondly remembered for having supported the educational aspirations of many Dalit youngsters. While the police acted quickly in zeroing in on suspects after the murder, questions were raised on the failure of police intelligence that could have prevented it. Heads have rolled in the force since the events, with the police commissioner of Chennai becoming one of those shifted out.

However, it became evident which way the state had decided to act when the incoming commissioner told reporters that rowdies would be spoken to in a language they would understand. To no one's surprise, a week later, one of the accused in the Armstrong murder was shot dead in "self-defence" in a police encounter. Days later, another history-sheeter was killed in an encounter in Tiruchirappalli. While this hard line from the police may have its supporters, sensible residents of TN wonder why the state cannot control law and order without resorting to extra-judicial violence. The desire of any member of the public is a safe environment maintained by a responsive, transparent and effective police force. Celebrating or even accepting extrajudicial violence as a requirement to guarantee order weighs the importance of ostensible public safety over individual civil liberties and human rights. It is a slippery slope that, historically, has never ended well for the common man or woman.

QUICK TAKE

SPREAD THE TECH RISK

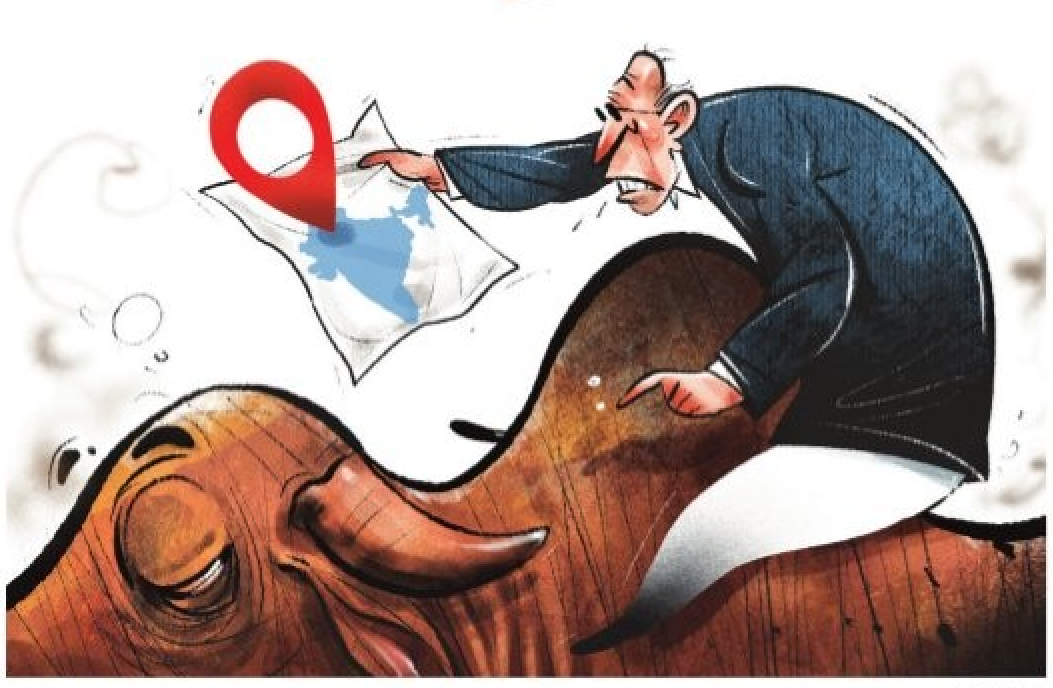
A computer systems outage on Friday that hit essential services across the world exposed the risk of concentrating too much tech market share in too few hands. A software update on Microsoft systems that disrupted work at several airports, airlines, banks and trading houses in India also played havoc with transport, healthcare and security elsewhere. Anti-trust action against tech giants has gained global momentum in recent years. Big tech is now intensely lobbying the Indian government on some provisions in the Digital Competition Bill. As the outage reminded us, the onus is also on businesses and governments to smartly spread operational risks while procuring IT systems.

Indian dairy yields need an upgrade. There was a time India exported prized Gir cattle to Brazil. Now we are seeking their help to make more milk in India

WAITING FOR THE BULLS TO COME HOME

BIBEK DEBROY

Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the Prime Minister



SOURAV ROY

I have written about this earlier, so I will keep the anecdote brief. In 1926, there was a Royal Commission on Agriculture. The report was submitted in 1928. The chairman of this commission was Lord Linlithgow. Among other things, the commission recommended that cattle should be improved by careful breeding, including by importing bulls. Like most government reports, the recommendations gathered dust, until it was announced in 1936 that Linlithgow would become governor general and viceroy.

The mandarins of Madras presidency woke up. Surely, the governor general would ask about implementation of the recommendations. Abolishing government jobs is impossible. But creating government jobs is also difficult. The Madras presidency solved the problem by invoking the governor general's name in the job title. LBKs (Linlithgow's bull keepers) and LBAs (Linlithgow's bull assistants) were created.

LBKs imported and maintained foreign bulls. These would impregnate inferior Indian cows and improve the species. But since a government subsidy was involved, fraud needed to be prevented. LBAs performed this supervisory role. They ensured the impregnation occurred on time. Eventually, LBKs and LBAs became pensioners and the posts were abolished in the early 1980s.

The commission wrote, "Many fine cattle belonging to a number of well-recognised breeds are to be found. Amongst the known ones are perhaps the Hariana and Sahiwal of the Punjab, the Tharparkar and Sindhi of Sindh, the Kankrej of Gujarat, the Gir of Kathiawar, and the Ongole of Madras." This is an incomplete list.

The National Dairy Development Board (NDDB) tells us there are 50 "well-defined" Indian breeds of cattle. They are used for different purposes—transport, milk, draught and manure. For example, the Thutho of Nagaland is used for meat and the Pulikulam of Tamil Nadu for game (Jallikattu).

NDDB states the obvious. "These breeds have evolved over generations, surviving due to their adaptability to harsh climatic conditions, ability to perform on poor quality feed and fodder, resistance to diseases etc. Adult males of some native breeds are also known for their draft qualities. Thus these indigenous breeds are well adapted to our existing agro-climatic conditions and are resistant to many tropical diseases. They can survive and produce on marginal and poor feed and fodder resources. Some of these breeds are well known for their high milk and fat production.

"However, the production potential of these animals has deteriorated over a period of time due to lack of selection. The population of some breeds have declined over the years and the primary reason is reduced productivity—an uneconomical proposition for farmers. The solution therefore lies in the genetic improvement of these breeds for milk production."

The 20th livestock census was held in 2019. (The 21st is due in 2024.) This tells us the total cattle population is 192.49 million, marginally higher than in 2012, the year of the last census. The female cattle population has increased, while that of males has decreased. With mechanisation and an emphasis on dairy, one should expect an overall decline in population and a marked preference for the female. Most cattle are in West Bengal, UP and MP, in that order.

The census classifies cattle into exotic or crossbred and indigenous or non-descript. Exotic or crossbred mean things like Jersey and Holstein Friesian, pure or crossbred. Just over one-fourth of cattle are exotic/crossbred, but the share has been increasing, understandable as these are high-yielding. On an average, an exotic cow yields 11.36 kg of milk per day. It is 8.32 kg for crossbred, 4.07 for indigenous and 2.83 for non-descript. Were the switch to be feasible, everyone would shift to exotic/crossbred. In the indigenous, the major ones are Gir, Lakhimi and Sahiwal.

Since December 2014, the department of animal husbandry and dairying has a Gokul Mission. It is meant to develop and conserve indigenous breeds of cattle and buffaloes. Without denigrating other breeds, the star of the Gokul Mission seems to be Gir.

Let me quote from a paper from the Food and Agriculture Organization. "The Gir is a famous milk cattle breed of India. The native tract of the breed is Gir hills and forests of Kathiawar, including Junagadh, Bhavnagar, Rajkot and Amreli districts of Gujarat. This breed is also known as Bhodali, Desan, Gujarati, Kathiawari, Sorthi and Surti in different parts of the breeding tract. The Gir are famous for their tolerance to stress conditions and resistance to various tropical diseases. Bullocks of this breed are used to drag heavy loads on all kinds of soil. Brazil, Mexico, US and Venezuela have imported these animals, where they are being bred successfully."

As this quote states, Gir cattle were exported to Brazil. (Anecdotally, the Maharaja of Bhavanagar first gifted them to Brazil in the 18th century.) Not just Brazil, but other South American countries too towards the end of the 19th and the beginning of the 20th century. It was also exported to the US.

Selective breeding led to new breeds being created, with Brazil experimenting not only with Gir, but also Red Sindhi, Ongole, Nellore and Kankrej. It is difficult to estimate numbers of a breed like Gir. When is it a pure Gir and when does it become mixed? With that caveat, the number of Gir cows in Brazil is roughly double the number in India, a fact most Indians may find surprising. To state it starkly, we went the Jersey and Holstein Friesian route, Brazil went the Gir route.

Our Gir breed needs improvement. Back in 1926 or 1936, we would have imported Gir bulls from Brazil. But technology and techniques have changed. So the NDDB has imported 40,000 doses of bull semen to be used for artificial insemination. There may be more imports, even of embryos. There are mind-boggling figures on milk yields for Brazilian cows. Even if the spectacular doesn't happen, with better breeds, Indian milk yields can become three times what they are.

However, there is some irony (there was a lot of controversy too) in Gir semen, if not Gir bulls, being imported from Brazil. There is a metaphor for globalisation as well. Make in India requires imports also. There is a phrase about cows coming home, indicating a slow, long and indefinite period of time. Hopefully, this experiment of bull semen coming home will do better.

EXISTENTIAL PERIL NOT ALWAYS A TRUMP CARD

PRATIK KANJILAL

For years, the author has been speaking easy to a surprisingly tolerant public

SPEAKEASY

ONCE more, we learn that a hole in the head is political capital. A badly-aimed shot at Donald Trump on campaign trail has pushed him much closer to the White House. In India, a bit over a decade ago, Anna Hazare had similarly used the distant memory of a war wound to mesmeric effect. "Sir mein goli lagi thi (I was shot in the head)," he reminded his fans every other day during his fasts and protests. With every utterance, his support grew—and, in a way, India's political landscape was changed by a shot fired by an unknown Pakistani soldier almost 50 years earlier.

Trump doesn't really have a hole in the head, but his attacker's bullet did a flyby of his headquarters and clipped an eartip, exactly where a freshly spayed cat is nicked by the vet to signal that it has been neutered. But the Democrats won't stoop to animal humour. The shooting has had the surprising effect of subduing rhetoric and hushing party workers on both sides.

It's a pleasant change. Trump has always played aggressive and, divided by the question of President Joe Biden's ability to hold office, Democrats were united only on the need to attack the orange peril as an existential threat to the idea of America. They had to call off the attacks on Trump as he was bundled off, bleeding profusely, punching the air and mouthing, "Fight! Fight! Fight!"

Trump has used the incident to prove he has no cognitive problems under fire. He has also strengthened his image as the indomitable victim. He is now a man being harried by the deep state, the law, the press and assassins, all at the same time. And it helps that a still of his shooting by Pulitzer-winning AP photographer Evan Vucci recalls the iconic World War II shot of another AP Pulitzer-winner, Joe Rosenthal, of the marines of Easy Company raising the US flag on Iwo Jima, which became the stuff of American propaganda.

A murderous attack is an electoral trump card. In India, the Congress can thank assassins for being able to retain power twice on sticky wickets. In 1984, Indira Gandhi lost control of her Punjab plot with Operation Blue Star, but her assassination by her bodyguards ensured the unopposed transition of power to Rajiv Gandhi, the most reluctant PM of all time.

Rajiv's prospects were not brilliant in the 1991 general election. The muck of Bofors clung to him. V P Singh had shaken up the board of the caste game. L K Advani had polarised half of India. A serious economic crisis was at hand. The only factor in his favour was that the electorate wanted political stability after the turbulence of the V P Singh and Chandra Shekhar governments. But Rajiv's assassination at Sriperumbudur secured the government for the Congress and ensured the smooth succession to P V Narasimha Rao, the most unlikely PM ever.

AP

Donald Trump, the freshly-anointed Republican presidential nominee, is not the first leader to make political capital out of a murderous attack. The beneficiary list stretches from Anna Hazare and P V Narasimha Rao to Jair Bolsonaro and Ronald Reagan. But it isn't an assured trump card

In right-wing territory, a knife attack on Jair Bolsonaro in 2018 helped him win the Brazilian election. In the US, the shooting of Ronald Reagan by John Hinckley Jr in 1981 secured public support for Reaganomics. It also helped to make his huge defence budgets palatable to voters, who eventually applauded him for grinding down the USSR and ending the Cold War.

While liberals fear that Trump's ear piercing has assured him a victory, parallels with the Indian elections suggest that it isn't a foregone conclusion. The BJP had dressed up the 2024 election as an existential struggle for INDIA. The opposition fended off a wipeout by projecting it as an existential struggle for India. The voter's gaze shifted from the jumla of endangered Hindus to the grim certainty of the endangered Constitution. A reassuringly large number of people, who had brought the BJP to office a decade ago on its promise of radical change, voted for continuity via the Constitution.

US voters also believe they face hard choices in an existential election. Liberals are privately ashamed of their president's commitment to backing Israel's genocide in Gaza. They also deplore the fact that they can't talk about it for fear of being labelled anti-semitic, a slur used indiscriminately, like our own 'anti-national'. They hope Trump would be a lesser evil because he has the instincts of a businessman and would wind down material support to conflicts overseas. In reality, though, business interests frequently back conflicts.

Conservative voters are desperate for change but fear that electing Trump could invite the deluge. Anxiety about America's future is no longer the preserve of survivalists. People of various persuasions are eager to survive in a world that is changing incomprehensibly fast. The future is hard to read partly because of right-wing disinformation, which is flourishing as wildly in the US as in India.

A poll conducted a month ago found over half of Americans think their economy is dwindling under Biden, though the GDP is up. A staggering 72 percent believe that inflation is up, although it is down. And multitudes believe that it's all the fault of Joe Biden, whose tribulations do not cease. This week, he has been careless enough to catch Covid, and will be isolated.

Facing him is the bloody but unbowed guy with an extra hole in the ear. But as India has shown this year, in an existential election, there are no certainties.

VAT woes

Ref: Lessons from India's midnight tryst with fiscal destiny (Jul 19). India is a heterogeneous fiscal federation unlike, say, Australia, where a unitary tax system is said to be successful. There is no need for a centralised tax regime in a nation as diverse as India. VAT may work when managed by state governments, but the GST is an ill-conceived tax system.

Quota quandary

The debate on a local quota in Karnataka gives the wrong signal to other states. Instead, each state may consider a quota for jobs to people from other states on a reciprocal basis. Jobs for only Kannadigas in their state is detrimental to national integration. Tomorrow, there could be a danger of all states emulating it, creating chaos. Let wisdom prevail on the state government to shun such unwise decisions.

Techies' worry

The Karnataka government's decision of giving reservation to Kannadigas in private jobs is not only impractical but unjustified and prejudiced. It will create hatred and oppression among techies from across the nation who are working in Bengaluru.

NTA credibility

With IIT Madras, which was mandated to review the paper leak and other irregularities, confirming the leak was minimal, the SC apparently felt the exam could pass muster and the results published. The NTA now has the herculean task of restoring its credibility.

More Army teeth to counter terror in Jammu

Special Force Commandos and a Brigade size troops added to region, which has recently seen a spurt in attacks

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

Security personnel during an encounter with terrorists in Doda on Thursday | PTI

AFTER a spate of terror attacks in Jammu, the Centre has bolstered deployment of armed forces, especially special commandos, in the region, according to sources in the security establishment.

Officers in the Army said a few companies of the special force commandos and Brigade-size troops have been sent to the Jammu region in the last few days to ramp up terror fight. "Around 500 commandos and about 2,000 troops of the other Army units have been added to the existing troop deployment in the Jammu region," an officer said, wishing not to be named.

The death toll of the armed forces personnel in Jammu region this year touched 11 after four Army personnel, including a captain, were killed on Monday in a gunfight with heavily armed terrorists in Doda district. In comparison, three terrorists have been killed in Jammu. Since 2021, as many as 34 soldiers have been martyred while 40 terrorists were killed.

The sources said there have been issues related to intelligence inputs, while the terrorists have brought in changes in their tactics. They pointed to thinner troop deployment, scarce ground intelligence inputs, and a tactical shift in terrorists' strategy.

"The terrorists have reduced taking logistics support from the locals and are using caves/caverns for hiding. Thick foliage and tree canopies help terrorists escape aerial surveillance and human tracking," an army officer said. "The terror operations are being led by retired soldiers of the Special Service Group, the special operations group of the Pakistan Army," he said.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday chaired a high-level meeting of the Cabinet Committee on Security to assess the security situation in Jammu. He is learnt to have directed officials to ramp up the deployment of armed forces in areas identified as vulnerable to terror activities. He also directed the intensification of counter-terror operations.

Security forces, along with the J&K Police, have launched comprehensive operations to curb the surge in terror across the region. As part of their intensified effort, many persons suspected of helping or aiding terrorists have been arrested in the last few days.

The length of the international border with Pakistan stretches close to 2,400 km from Gujarat to the north banks of Chenab in Akhnoor in Jammu. Then starts the 740 km Line of Control from parts of Jammu to Leh.

The Steyr AUG is designed as a modular weapon system that could be quickly configured as an assault rifle, a carbine, a submachine gun and an open-bolt light machine gun.

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE security agencies are concerned after the Army personnel recovered Steyr AUG assault rifle, made in Austria, from the terrorists killed in an encounter in the Keran sector of Jammu and Kashmir's Kupwara district on Thursday.

A gunfight had ensued after the security forces detected suspicious movement along the Line of Control and on being challenged, the militants opened fire. "Two foreign terrorists were killed. Arms and ammunition, war-like stores and a Pakistani identity card were recovered from them," sources said, adding that the Steyr AUG was among the recoveries made.

The Steyr AUG is a selective-fire, bullpup assault rifle with a conventional gas-piston-operated action that fires from a closed bolt. It is designed as a modular weapon system that could be quickly configured as an assault rifle, a carbine, a submachine gun and even an open-bolt light machine gun.

Militants have already been using the US-made M-4 carbine rifles. Several of these were recovered by security forces from militants killed both in Jammu region as well as Kashmir. "The M-4s are mostly used by top commanders and Pakistan militants operating in J&K," a security officer said, who explained that these rifles are sophisticated and have night vision devices.

"Pakistan's ISI has got a lot of money via narco trade. They are using it to buy weapons to use in J&K," former J&K police chief SP Vaid said.

SC turns down bail to two convicts in Bilkis case

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday dismissed interim bail petitions filed by two men convicted of gang rape of Bilkis Bano during the 2002 Gujarat riots.

The two convicts — Radheshyam Bhagwandas and Rajubhai Babulal Soni — had sought temporary release till the top court ruled on a fresh remission plea. They filed a challenge to the court's January verdict that cancelled their release by the Gujarat government in 2022.

In March, Bhagwandas and Babulal moved the court contending that the January verdict contravened a 2002 order by the Constitution bench. They requested that the issue — of their remission by the Gujarat government being cancelled — be referred to a larger bench. Their pleas filed under Article 32 (right to constitutional remedies) argued that till a fresh decision is taken on their remission or early release from the jail, the court should grant them interim bail.

A two-judge bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and PV Sanjay Kumar did not find merit in their pleas and refused to entertain them. "What is this plea? How is it even maintainable? Absolutely misconceived. How can in (Article) 32, we sit over appeal?" the bench said.

Rishi Malhotra, appearing for the two convicts, then sought permission to withdraw his plea, to which the SC allowed, and the petition was dismissed as withdrawn.

The Supreme Court in its January 8 verdict had quashed the Gujarat government's August 15, 2022, decision of granting remission to 11 convicts, sentenced to life term for the gang rape of Bilkis Bano and killing her family members during the 2002 Gujarat riots. It directed all the 11 convicts to surrender within two weeks in the case by January 21.

The Gujarat government had granted remission to all the 11 convicts on August 15, 2022, following a May 2022 judgment in which the top court held that an application of remission should be considered in line with the policy of the state where the crime was committed and not where the trial was held.

The remission to the 11 convicts triggered an outrage, with social activists and lawyers calling it as "miscarriage of justice."

The 11 convicts who were set free by the Gujarat government are Jaswant Nai, Govindbhai Nai, Shailesh Bhatt, Radhyesham Shah, Bipin Chandra Joshi, Kesarbhai Vohania, Pradeep Mordhiya, Bakabhai Vohania, Rajubhai Babulal Soni, Mitesh Chamanlal Bhat and Ramesh Rupabhai Chandana.

Plea to review order on voter secrecy

A petition, which sought a review of a Supreme Court order — turning down a PIL alleging violation of voter secrecy in the existing electoral system — was dismissed. PIL challenges cancellation of NEET-SS exam

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

SUPREME Court on Friday issued notice to the Centre and sought its response after hearing a Public Interest Litigation, which challenged the cancellation of National Eligibility cum Entrance Test Super Specialty (NEET-SS) exam for 2024.

The court was not initially inclined to hear the PIL filed under Article 32, but later a three-judge bench led by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud and comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra took it up for hearing.

The apex court, while granting liberty to all the petitioners to implead the National Board of Examinations as a party to the case, also issued notices to the National Medical Commission and the Medical Counselling Committee and sought their replies. It fixed the matter for further hearing to July 26.

During the hearing, the court asked the petitioners' lawyer why the plea was filed under Article 32. The lawyer replied that there is a fixed timeline for such exams as per Ashish Ranjan judgment.

Strict action against executive for molesting woman on flight: Jindal

ASHISH SRIVASTAVA @ New Delhi

I have asked the team to immediately investigate the matter (harassment) and thereafter strictest and necessary action will be taken (against Jindal Steels CEO Dinesh Kumar Saraogi)

Naveen Jindal, Jindal Enterprises chairman

NAVEEN Jindal, the chairman of Jindal Enterprises, on Friday assured a woman of "strictest action" against one of his top employees accused of molesting her in a flight.

The assurance from Jindal, who is also a Member of Parliament (MP) from Kurukshetra, came in a response to a post on X, where the woman narrated her ordeal.

The incident, as per the woman's testimony, occurred on an Etihad flight from Kolkata to Abu Dhabi (in transit to Boston). The Abu Dhabi police have reportedly booked the accused for the offense.

The woman, whose username on X goes by Ananya Chhaochharia, shared that Dinesh Kumar Saraogi, CEO of Jindal Steels (as per his LinkedIn profile), who was sitting next to her in the flight, forced her to watch porn videos and groped her later.

"I was seated next to an industrialist (Dinesh Kumar Saraogi, CEO of Jindal Steel). He must be roughly 65 in age and told me he now lives in Oman but travels frequently. He started chatting me up — very normal conversation about our roots and family, etc, and (that his) both sons are married and settled in the US, etc. The conversation moved to what my hobbies are. He asked if I enjoy watching movies and I was like 'of course'. He then proceeds to tell me he has some movie clips on his phone. He whips out his phone and earphones to show me PORN!" she posted.

"He started groping me. I was frozen in shock and scare. I eventually ran off to the washroom and complained to the air staff. Thankfully, the Etihad team was very proactive and took action immediately. They made me sit at their seating area and served me tea and fruits," she wrote.

She further accused Saraogi of asking the airline staff of her whereabouts after she left her seat. "The staff also informed the cops at Abu Dhabi, who were waiting as soon as the gates of the aircraft opened. I could not proceed with a complaint because I would have missed my connecting flight to Boston. I was escorted to the next gate to ensure he did not come near me. He also did not deny this when the cops asked him questions," she added.

Jindal responded to her post saying that the company has "zero tolerance" in such matters. "I have asked the team to immediately investigate the matter and thereafter strictest and necessary action will be taken," Jindal said.

Abu Dhabi police books the accused CEO

As per the woman's testimony, the incident occurred on an Etihad flight from Kolkata to Abu Dhabi (in transit to Boston), when Jindal Steels CEO Dinesh Kumar Saraogi showed porn clips to her and groped her. The Abu Dhabi police have reportedly booked the accused for the offense.

Nation's defence comes first and foremost. If Indian forces have to ride on this atma nirbharta, it is only possible if everyone from DRDO to DPSUs to the private industry hold hands and take us to that path

Air Marshal Aman Preet Singh, Vice-Chief of Air Staff

LAYING emphasis on "nation's defence" Air Marshal AP Singh on Friday said that the push to Atma Nirbharta (self reliance) in defence cannot be at the cost of it.

The Vice-Chief of the Air Staff (VCAS), Air Marshal AP Singh enunciated the example of adversaries, the rate at which they are growing, the rate at which they are imbibing technologies "We have a long gap to catch up with." And added this is something we need to look at, the nation as a whole.

Speaking at an event organised by the Centre for Air Power Studies (CAPS) in Delhi, Air Marshal AP Singh said "..Atma nirbharta is what we are riding on... But this atma nirbharta cannot be at the cost of the nation's defence."

"Nation's defence comes first and foremost and if Indian Air Force or Indian forces have to ride on this atma nirbharta, it is only possible if everyone - from DRDO, to DPSUs, to the private industry hold hands and take us to that path and don't let us deviate it..."

He further mentioned that defending the country is not only the job of men in uniforms and said "So, my humble request to each one of us here, including we in uniform, is that let's put a system in place where we are helping each other out in achieving the overall goal, which are our goals."

Air Marshal Singh also asserted that the weapons that the forces are talking about should be developed and manufactured in the country and at a faster rate.

Along with Research and Development (R&D) agencies which are looking at developing new technologies, the industry has to be ready to absorb these new technologies.

Use big data, AI to counter terrorism, says Shah

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

Home minister Amit Shah chairs the meeting of heads of security on Friday | PTI

HOME Minister Amit Shah on Friday stressed on the need to constitute a team of young and tech-savvy officers to dismantle the terror ecosystem utilising big data, artificial intelligence and machine learning driven analytics.

Officials said that while chairing a meeting of heads of security and law enforcement agencies here to review functioning of Multi Agency Centre (MAC) of the Intelligence Bureau (IB), Shah reiterated that in the face of new and emerging security challenges, "we must always be one step ahead in our responses".

MAC is an information technology-driven platform for sharing intelligence inputs provided by security and investigative agencies for each other's sharing and taking action based on the inputs.

Shah asked the officers to adopt a whole-of-the-government approach towards national security and suggested they should work with greater synergy among them in their effort to dismantle the terror networks and their supporting ecosystem, the officials said.

Shah also emphasised that MAC must continue to work 24X7 as a platform "for pro-active and real-time sharing of actionable intelligence, amongst various stakeholders, including last-mile responders". He said the government is working on a technical and operational revamp of MAC to increase its reach.

While reviewing the overall internal security situation and the fight against terrorism, Shah asked for greater engagement through MAC to make it into a cohesive platform that brings together all the law enforcement agencies, anti-drug agencies, cyber security and intelligence agencies, for decisive and prompt action.

The officials said that the home minister exhorted all the stakeholders to bolster their efforts further through prompt responses and aggressive follow up of shared inputs on the multi agency centre.

Speaking about the impact of the outage, Rao said it is "profound, not only in terms of huge financial losses but also possibly causing significant harm to many affected individuals. Flight delays and cancellations, problems at banks, and issues in various institutions worldwide underscore the vulnerabilities inherent in our highly interconnected world."

Action against 7 MLAs for cross-voting in council polls

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

> A group of senior MLAs from the state Congress has written to the party high command, demanding immediate action against MLAs who cross-voted in the MLC elections
>
> K C Venugopal

'Solid evidence'

A senior Congress leader said that the party has solid evidence and proof of these seven Congress MLAs cross-voting for the opposite candidate. He added that strict action will be taken by these MLAs

THE Congress has decided to take disciplinary action against the seven Congress MLAs who cross-voted in the recent Maharashtra Legislative Council elections. "These MLAs will be expelled from the party in the next two days," a senior Congress leader said, wishing not to be named.

Congress leader K C Venugopal on Friday said the party has taken action against the MLAs who cross-voted in the biennial elections to 11 seats of the Maharashtra legislative council last week. "Action has been taken against the MLAs who cross-voted and you will see the result in future. Discipline is very important," Venugopal told reporters after attending a meeting here to review the party's preparations for the upcoming Maharashtra legislative assembly elections and to decide its poll strategies

"A group of senior MLAs from the Maharashtra Congress has written to the party high command, demanding immediate action against MLAs who cross-voted in the MLC elections. The MLAs said even those who followed the party's orders are under scanner due to the actions of the seven MLAs who cross-voted," Venugopal said.

Congress, which has 37 MLAs, had fixed a quota of 30 first preference votes for its candidate Pradyna Satav, and seven remaining votes were to go to Milind Narvekar, candidate of the ally Shiv Sena (UBT). Eventually, Satav got 25 and Narvekar 22 first preference votes, which meant at least seven Congress MLAs cross-voted.

"We got solid evidence and proof of these seven Congress MLAs cross-voting for the opposite candidate. Last time, the same set of MLAs who are close to former chief minister Ashok Chavan cross-voted in MLC elections where Congress candidate Chandrakant Handore lost. Now, we will not spare them. Strict action will be taken by these MLAs to set the example for other elected representatives. The report is with the Congress president and in the next two days, he will take decision over it," said a senior congress leader who requested anonymity. Maharashtra Congress chief Nana Patole called those who cross-voted 'traitors'.

Maurya's 'sinking ship' jibe at SP chief 'monsoon offer'

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

> The BJP workers will wrap up the 'monsoon offer' to 47 in 2027 yet again. A party, which is like a sinking ship with its present and future in danger, can always dream big but it will never come true
>

Rumours on rift

Maurya's recent remarks that party organisation should get precedence over government and his meeting with BJP chief JP Nadda triggered speculations about his rift with Yogi Adityanath

IN a strong retort to Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav's 'monsoon offer', Uttar Pradesh deputy chief minister Keshav Prasad Maurya on Friday said that SP is a "sinking ship" which would soon disappear into oblivion.

"The BJP workers and people will wrap up the 'monsoon offer' to 47 in 2027 yet again. A party, which is like a sinking ship with its present and future in danger, can always dream big (Mungerilal ke sapne) but those dreams will never come true. In 2027, we will repeat 2017 and form the government of lotus," Maurya wrote on X, referring to Yadav's comment.

The SP chief on Thursday made a cryptic 'monsoon offer' of forming the state government with 100 MLAs. "Monsoon offer: Sau lau, sarkar banao," Yadav had posted on X. The statement was widely seen as an offer to the detractors of chief minister Yogi Adityanath to defect and form a new government. Yadav's jibe came amid speculations of a rift between Adityanath and Maurya over the BJP's less-than-impressive show in the state in the Lok Sabha polls.

It was not the first time that the SP chief had made such an offer. In December 2022, Yadav had offered UP deputy CMs Maurya and Brajesh Pathak to "bring 100 MLAs and become CM of the state". Maurya's recent remarks that party organisation should get precedence over government and his meeting with BJP chief JP Nadda triggered speculations about his rift with Yogi Adityanath.

Amid the buzz over a rift in the BJP leadership in UP, Akhilesh Yadav has been poking sarcasm on the ruling party claiming that it had gone weak owing to Lok Sabha poll setback followed by one-upmanship in the party.

Meanwhile, Maurya hit back at Akhilesh Yadav saying that both the government and the BJP organisation at the Centre and in the state were strong and would come back in 2027 assembly polls with a thumping majority like in 2017. "The return of the Goonda Raj of SP is not possible in UP," he said on X. The BJP dismissed speculations about infighting and sought to project a united face in the crucial state.

Speculation rife over Gujarati Governor

Gujarat Governor Acharya Devvrat's five-year term ends on July 22, sparking speculation about his successor. Discussions are intensifying over his replacement, with sources indicating that an announcement can soon be expected. The Governor, who assumed office in July 2019, recently met with Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah in the national capital. The meeting has fueled speculation about an upcoming change in the gubernatorial position. If sources are to be believed, this time, a senior leader from the Gujarat BJP might occupy the Governor's chair.

₹1 crore reward to disprove allegations

A letter attributed to a Gujarat BJP leader has garnered social media attention, with the Congress leaders sharing it extensively and questioning the internal conflicts within the saffron party. Posted by Gujarat Assembly LoP Amit Chavda, the post reads: "I am Ramesh Patel, former APMC Director of Kadi, and I have announced a reward of one crore." Cabinet expansion on the cards

There are indications of Gujarat cabinet expansion in the final week of July or early August. According to reports, it would be a mix of familiar and new faces. Deliberations are underway about potential candidates including two former Congress members who recently joined the BJP and won the state by-elections. The possibility of dropping ministers with subpar performance is being considered. There has been ongoing speculation about a cabinet reshuffle and appointing a new Gujarat BJP chief. While some say expansion will occur after the appointment of new president, others anticipate it happening before it.

ED raids Bihar bridge construction firm in Patna, Delhi & Haryana

Luxury watches recovered

The raids on the premises of Singla Group of Companies are allegedly linked with the earlier raids conducted on the premises of Sanjeev Hans and former RJD MLA Sanjeev Yadav in even as ED officials remained tight-lipped

THE ED on Friday conducted simultaneous raids on the premises of leading construction company SP Singla Group of Companies in the state capital, New Delhi and Panchkula (Haryana) under provisions of Money Laundering Act.

ED authorities reached the SP Singla Group of Companies office in Boring Road locality in the state capital early this morning and conducted searches. These searches were carried out after the central agency conducted raids on the premises of Bihar-cadre IAS officer Sanjeev Hans and former RJD MLA Gulab Yadav in Patna and Jhanjharpur in Bihar, Delhi and Pune.

ED recovered 15 watches, including luxury brands like Rado and Rolex, and gold jewellery of nearly 1.1 kg from the premises of the IAS officer Sanjeev Hans during raids conducted in connection with a money laundering case on Wednesday.

The raids on the premises of Singla Group of Companies are allegedly linked with the earlier raids conducted on the premises of Sanjeev Hans and former RJD MLA Sanjeev Yadav in even as ED officials remained tight-lipped on it. The central agency reportedly found documents establishing Hans's links with the SP Singla Group of Companies.

Sources claimed that Hans as the Managing Director of Bihar Rajya Pul Nirman Nigam Limited (BRPNNL) had allegedly awarded multiple bridge project tenders to the SP Singla Group in lieu of the monetary benefits. ED officials have also seized evidence of these financial transactions.

Sources said that during the raid at Sanjeev Hans' residence, the ED officials seized a diary containing the names of several senior officials and journalists from the print and electronic media of the state capital. The agency is trying to find out whether they were among the beneficiaries.

FIR against Puja Khedkar on UPSC's cheating complaint

UJWAL JALALI & SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ New Delhi/Mumbai

Action to depend on reply

The UPSC issued a show cause notice to Puja Khedkar asking why her candidature should not be cancelled. If Khedkar is found guilty after her reply, then she will be dismissed from the service.

THE Delhi Police Crime Branch has registered an FIR against probationary IAS officer Puja Khedkar for allegedly misrepresenting and falsifying facts to obtain extra attempts in the Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) examinations , officials said on Friday.

According to a senior police official, the case was registered under sections of forgery, cheating, IT Act and disability act at the Crime Branch police station in the capital. The Commission had given a written complaint to the police and sought action against the "tainted" civil servant.

Khedkar, a 2023 batch Indian Administrative Service officer, was accused of misusing power and privileges during her training in Pune recently. The Commission also issued a show cause notice for cancellation of her candidature of the civil services examination-2022 and debarment from future examinations/selections.

"The Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) has conducted a detailed and thorough investigation into the misdemeanour of Ms. Puja Manorama Dilip Khedkar, a provisionally recommended candidate of the Civil Services Examination-2022," the commission said.

It stated that its investigation has revealed that Khedkar fraudulently availed attempts beyond the permissible limit under the examination rules by faking her identity by way of changing her name, her father's and mother's name, her photograph/signature, her email ID, mobile number, and address. The UPSC has, therefore, initiated a series of actions against her, including criminal prosecution by filing a First Information Report (FIR) with the police authorities and has issued "a Show Cause Notice (SCN) for cancellation of her candidature of the Civil Services Examination-2022/debarment from future examinations/ selections, in accordance with the Rules of the Civil Services Examination-2022."

Meanwhile, the Pimpri-Chinchwad civic body in Pune sealed an engineering firm linked to the mother of Khedkar over unpaid property tax amounting to nearly ~ 2 lakh.

The junior bureaucrat's mother, Manorama Khedkar, is currently in the custody of Pune police in a criminal case.

The Pimpri-Chinchwad Municipal Corporation (PCMC) in Pune district sealed the defunct firm -- Thermoverita India Pvt Ltd -- located in the Talawade area over unpaid property dues. Notably, Puja Khedkar, while applying for a disability certificate at the Yashwantrao Chavan Memorial Hospital (YCM) in the Pimpri-Chinchwad township for selection into civil services under quota, had given the engineering firm's location as her residential address. Meanwhile, a Pune court granted till July 25 interim protection to her father Dilip Khedkar.

Tribals under pressure from Bangla infiltrators: Marandi

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

FOLLOWING an alleged attack on tribal households after a dispute over making an objectionable edited video of a girl viral on social media by her neighbour, state BJP Chief Babulal Marandi has said that the tribals in Jharkhand are being threatened by Bangladeshi infiltrators to hand over their land to them.

Terming it a clear case of 'land-jihad', Marandi said that the increasing atrocities on tribal women and daughters on the land of tribal freedom fighters, is extremely sad.

Marandi also shared a video footage on X where some people in 'lungi' who could be seen ransacking a house saying 'jeena Muskhil kar denge' (Will make your life miserable) and posted, "Listen to this precarious threat being given to the tribals of Jharkhand by illegal Bangladeshi intruders and guess the horrifying future of Jharkhand!"

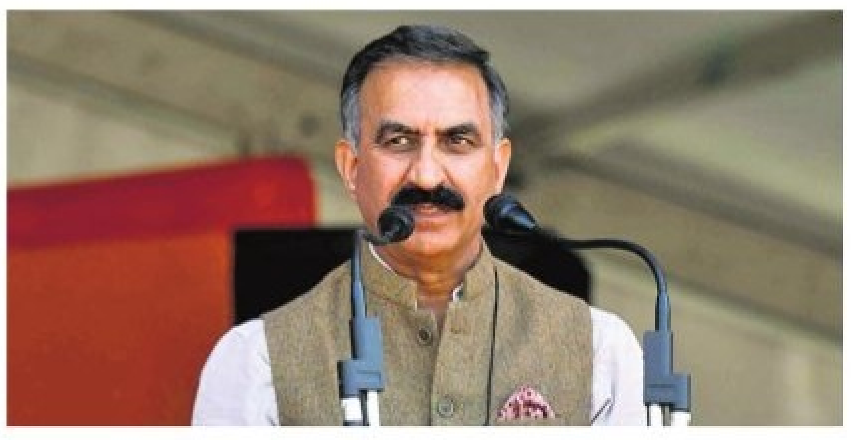
"If the tribals do not hand over their land to Bangladeshi intruders in Hemant Soren's government, their lives will be made miserable," said Marandi. The self-proclaimed contractor of Abua Raj and jal, jungle, zameen, Hemant Soren, has now taken the contract to eliminate the identity of tribals from Santhal Pargana, he added.

Marandi further said that the case of 'land jihad' has come to the light in Gayabthan under Maheshpur police station in Pakur, where the land owners were beaten up and seriously injured by the infiltrators.

Earlier on Thursday, the Pakur district administration ordered prohibitory orders following a fierce conflict between two communities at Ilami-Taranagar village under Muffassil police station. Three persons have also been arrested in this regard.

Sukhu: Hill states must have special sanction norms for AMRUT projects

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh



> The projects under AMRUT are sanctioned on the basis of population which is unsuitable for Himachal and hence needs to be relaxed to take maximum benefit under the scheme
>
> Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu, Chief Minister

HIMACHAL Pradesh Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu on Friday urged the Centre to adopt distinct norms for hilly states like Himachal Pradesh for sanctioning projects under Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transport (AMRUT) scheme, keeping in view the difficult terrain and topography.

The projects under AMRUT, he said, were sanctioned on the basis of population and the current population-based criteria was unsuitable for Himachal and hence needs to be relaxed to take maximum benefit under the scheme.

Sukhu was speaking during a meeting with Union Minister for Housing and Urban Affairs Manohar Lal in Himachal Bhawan in Chandigarh.

The recommendations of 15th Finance Commission should also be reviewed periodically as the cost of projects escalates overtime, he added.

Himachal was one of the best performing states under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) and urged for funds to be released for PMAY-2 once the funds under PMAY-1 were fully utilised.

He urged the Centre to amend the tender policy system, reducing the period from 60 days to 10 days to accelerate the pace of development works.

He said that system monitoring was an important concept and focus should be laid on it.

CM Sukhu urged the Ministry of Power to allow one MW capacity solar systems with battery backups for border areas like Spiti to mitigate the hardships caused by snow and adverse weather.

₹362 crore has been earmarked to ensure uninterrupted power supply in these areas.

Chorus for separate 'Bheel' state gains currency in Raj

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

THE demand to form a separate 'Bheel Pradesh' or Tribal state is gaining momentum. Thousands of tribals from Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat, and Maharashtra held a mega rally on Thursday at Mangarh Dham in Banswara to raise this demand. The tribals want a new state to be created by merging 49 districts of 4 states of the country and will soon send a delegation to meet the President and the PM to press for this demand.

Tribals from Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat, and Maharashtra reached Mangarh Dham for this massive tribal rally in Rajasthan's Banswara district. Many MPs and MLAs of the tribal community also participated in this mega rally called by 35 organizations of the tribal community, the largest organization of the Bhil community. They are demanding the establishment of a 'Bheel' or tribal State by merging 12 districts of Rajasthan, 14 of Gujarat, 13 of Madhya Pradesh and 6 of Maharashtra.

Addressing the massive public meeting organised by tribal leaders at Mangarh Dham, a revered place for tribals, newly elected MP Rajkumar Roat said that the demand for Bhil state has been pending for a long time and the Bharatiya Adivasi Party (BAP) is raising the issue with full force. The BAP leader Rajkumar Roat asserted "the demand for Bheel state is not new. BAP is strongly raising this demand for a long time. After the mega rally, a delegation will meet the President and the Prime Minister with the proposal to establish Bheel state."

He added that "the sacrifice of over 1,500 tribals in Mangarh in 1913 was not just for the Bhakti movement but for the demand of Bhil province." Umesh Meena, BAP MLA from Aspur, and Dhariyawad MLA Thawarchand Bhil participated in rally donning T-shirts with slogans of 'Bhil state'.

Anti-quota protesters clash with the police in Bangladesh capital Dhaka | AFP

CURFEW IMPOSED IN BANGLADESH

Military deployed as unrest toll hits 105; student protesters storm prison, free hundred of inmates

DHAKA

BANGLADESHI Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina's office on Friday announced the imposition of a nationwide curfew and the deployment of military forces to keep order after days of deadly student protests.

"The government has decided to impose a curfew and deploy the military in aid of the civilian authorities," Hasina's press secretaery Nayeemul Islam Khan told AFP.

Police and security officials fired bullets and tear gas at protesters in the capital as internet and mobile services were cut off following days of deadly clashes over the allocation of government jobs.

This week's unrest has killed at least 105 people, according to an AFP count of victims reported by hospitals, and emerged as a momentous challenge to Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina's autocratic government after 15 years in office.

Student protesters stormed a jail in the central Bangladeshi district of Narsingdi and freed the facility's inmates before setting the facility on fire, a police officer told AFP on condition of anonymity. "I don't know the number of inmates, but it would be in the hundreds," he added. Earlier in the day, Dhaka's police force took the drastic step of banning all public gatherings—a first since protests began—in an effort to forestall another day of violence. "We've banned all rallies, processions and public gatherings in Dhaka today," police chief Habibur Rahman told AFP, adding the move was necessary to ensure "public safety". That did not stop another round of confrontations between police and protesters around the megacity of 20 million people, despite an internet shutdown aimed at frustrating the organisation of rallies.

"Our protest will continue," Sarwar Tushar, who joined a march in the capital and sustained minor injuries, told AFP. "We want the immediate resignation of Sheikh Hasina. The government is responsible for the killings." The chaos has highlighted cracks in Bangladesh's governance and economy and the frustration of young graduates who face a lack of good jobs.

'Outage shows fragility of world's core internet infra'

FRANKFURT

AIRLINES, banks, TV channels and other business across the globe were scrambling to deal with one of the biggest IT crashes in recent years on Friday, apparently caused by an update to an antivirus program. "This is a very, very uncomfortable illustration of the fragility of the world's core internet infrastructure," said Ciaran Martin, a professor at Oxford University's Blavatnik School of Government and former Head of Britain's National Cyber Security Centre.

Cyber expert James Bore said real harm would be caused by the outage because systems people have come to rely on at critical times are not going to be available. Hospitals, for example, will struggle to sort out appointments and those who need care may not get it — and it will lead to deaths, he said.

"All of these systems are running the same software," Bore said. "We've made all of these tools so widespread that when things inevitably go wrong — and they will, as we've seen — they go wrong at a huge scale." The head of Germany's IT security agency, Claudia Plattner, said that "the problems will last some time — we can't expect a very quick solution." A forecast for when exactly all systems will be up and running is difficult, but "it won't be hours," she added.

Microsoft spokesperson Frank X Shaw confirmed in an emailed statement that "a CrowdStrike update was responsible for bringing down a number of Windows systems globally. AP

Cracks in O2C pull down RIL Q1 PAT

Reliance's profit after tax at ₹15,138 crore is lower than the street's estimate of ₹16,287 crore

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

IMPACTED by the underperformance of its mainstay oil to chemical (O2C) business, India's most valued company - Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL) - on Friday reported a 5% decline in its consolidated net profit (attributable to the owners) at ₹15,138 crore for the first quarter ended June 2024 (Q1FY25). This is lower than the street's expectations as analysts had estimated a profit of ₹16,287 crore, according to LSEG data.

RIL had reported a PAT of ₹16,011 crore in the June quarter of the last focal (Q1FY24). Sequentially, the decline in the bottomline was steeper as the oil-to-telecom conglomerate had reported a profit of ₹18,951 crore in the March quarter (Q4FY24). However, RIL's revenue from operations increased by over 11% year-on-year (YoY) to ₹2.36 lakh crore in June ending quarter.

"The deep integration and flexibility built into our O2C business model helped mitigate the impact of challenging operating environment. The business was impacted by lower fuel cracks with tepid global demand and ramp-up of new refineries," said Mukesh D. Ambani, Chairman and Managing Director of RIL.

O2C's segment revenue for Q1FY25 increased by 18.1% YoY to ₹157,133 crore, primarily on account of higher product prices tracking a 9% increase in Brent crude oil prices, and higher volumes supported by strong domestic demand. However, this segment's EBITDA in the reported quarter plunged 14.3% YoY at ₹13,093 crore due to lower transportation fuel cracks, particularly gasoline cracks which were down 30% Y-o-Y. Downstream chemical margins were also lower on a YoY basis.

RIL is one of the biggest Indian buyers of Russian oil sold at a discount. The company has an annual oil purchase deal with Russian oil major Rosneft. The retail division, Reliance Retail Ventures (RRVL), delivered a steady performance in Q1FY25 with revenue of ₹75,615 crore, up 8.1% YoY. In the March quarter, revenue was slightly higher at ₹76,627 crore. This segment's PAT surged 4.4% YoY to ₹2,549 crore. In the March quarter, the same was reported at ₹2,746 crore.

Oil and gas segment was a standout for RIL even though this business also registered a sequential fall in the June quarter.

Wipro profit up 5%; to hire 12K freshers in '25

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

M&A (mergers and acquisitions) is something that we will constantly look out and we will do the right M&A at the right time

Srini Pallia, CEO and MD at Wipro

Large deal at $1.2 bn in Q1

Large deal bookings in Q1 stood at $1.2 bn and IT services operating margin was at 16.5%, a rise of 0.4% YoY. Wipro has guided sequential revenue growth in the range of (-)1% to + 1% in constant currency terms.

Wipro beat Street estimates and posted a 4.6% rise in its consolidated net profit for the June quarter at ₹3,003 crore as against ₹2,870 crore in the year-ago period.

However, it missed revenue expectations and its consolidated revenue fell 3.7% to ₹21,964 crore as against ₹22,831 crore in the same quarter last year due to softness in certain geographies. Srini Pallia, CEO and MD, said in the first quarter, the company didn't see a major shift in demand environment. "Clients remained cautious and discretionary spending continued to be muted," he said.

Large deal bookings in the first quarter stood at $1.2 billion and IT services operating margin was at 16.5%, a rise of 0.4% YoY. Wipro has guided sequential revenue growth in the range of (-)1% to + 1% in constant currency terms. The company had kept the revenue guidance to (-) 1.5% to + 0.5% for Q1FY25. When asked whether Wipro is planning for any acquisition in FY25, the CEO said, "M&A (mergers and acquisitions) is something that we will constantly look out and we will do the right M&A at the right time. That's part of the strategy and we have a solid M&A team and as an organisation we have been acquisitive and we will continue to do that."

Pallia said in Q1 the company maintained positive momentum in its Capco business, achieving a sequential growth of 3.4%. The company acquired Capco, a global management and tech consultancy to the banking and financial services industry, for $ 1.45 billion in 2021. After a break of a year the company has started on boarding freshers from the campus. The company's Chief Human Resources Officer Saurabh Govil said the firm has onboarded about 3,000 freshers in the first quarter and will add 10,000 to 12,000 in the current fiscal.

Paytm loss widens to ₹840 cr in Q1 FY25

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FINTECH firm One97 Communications, which owns Paytm, on Friday said its loss has widened to ₹840 crore in the quarter ended June 30, mainly due to continued impact of restrictions on Paytm Payments Bank Ltd.

The company had posted a loss of ₹358.4 crore in the same period a year ago, according to a regulatory filing by the company. The consolidated revenue of Paytm declined 33.48% to ₹1,639.1 crore during the reported quarter, from ₹2,464.2 crore in the same period a year ago. Paytm spokesperson attributed the widening of loss and decline in revenue primarily to the disruption in business due to restrictions imposed on associate company Paytm Payments Bank (by RBI).

The RBI barred PPBL from accepting deposits, credit transactions or top-ups in any customer accounts, wallets, and FASTags, keeping in view the interest of customers, including merchants from March 15 onwards.

Ultratech profit flat at ₹1,695 cr, shares fall

MUMBAI: Country's largest cement maker Ultratech Cement has reported a flattish net at `1,695 crore for the June quarter, even though revenue rose about 2% to `18,069 crore, sending its shares tanking. The company in a statement on Friday attributed the poor set of numbers to the general elections, labour shortages due to election-related migration, extreme heatwaves, and the economic slowdown in a few states hitting cement demand during the quarter. The numbers declared during the market hours saw the counter tanking 3.22% at `11,272.50 while the broader market shed 1 percent ahead of the budget next Tuesday. ENS

Friday crash wipes out ₹8L cr from domestic equity market

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

SNAPPING a four-day winning rally, India's equity market benchmarks – BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty50– took a beating on Friday due to the global sell-off, triggered by operating system issues that caused devices to crash worldwide. Premium valuation concerns and investors deciding to book profit ahead of the union budget due on Tuesday next week also dampened sentiments.

At close, the Sensex was down 0.91% at 80,604 and the Nifty was down 1.09% at 24,530. The selling was so widespread that only 858 shares registered on the BSE gained while 3,071 shares declined and 81 were unchanged. The broader markets logged a decline for the second straight day as midcap and smallcap indices fell 2.3 and 2.2%, respectively.

In total, investors lost almost Rs 8 lakh on Friday as the market capitalization of BSE-listed firms fell to Rs 446.38 lakh crore on Friday against Rs 454.32 lakh crore in Thursday's session.

"The global IT outrage has led to disruptions in various Indian industries. The overvalued market is also experiencing profit booking ahead of the budget next week. The recent performance has been bullish in anticipation of pro industry and populist measures," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services.

Ajit Mishra – SVP, Research, Religare Broking said that this decline signals caution ahead of the Union Budget, as participants chose to book profits. "We may see further dips in the Nifty, with the next crucial support at the 24,150 level, corresponding to the 20 DEMA. Traders are advised to avoid aggressive positions and opt for hedged trades. It is also recommended to focus on index majors rather than midcap and smallcap stocks for now," added Mishra.

Sector-wise, metal and realty stocks plunged the most with their respective indices falling up to four per cent. Energy and auto index were also the laggards, crashing over two per cent each. Among the Nifty50 stocks, Tata Steel, BPCL, JSW Steel, Hindalco, NTPC, Tata Motors, ONGC, Coal India, Ultratech Cement and Wipro fell between 3% and 5%.

ASIANOMICS

MALAYSIA

Q2 GDP GROWTH BEATS ESTIMATES AS RECOVERY HOLDS

The economic growth of Malaysia in the second quarter surpassed all estimates on broad-based gains from manufacturing to consumption. It suggests a recovery seen at the beginning of 2024 is gathering speed. Gross domestic product jumped 5.8% in the April-June quarter from a year ago, according to advance estimates released by the Department of Statistics on July 19. The performance follows a 4.2% expansion in the first three months of 2024, and puts the economy on course to hit, if not surpass, the government's projection of a 4% to 5% growth in 2024. The robust growth data, along with potential price pressures arising from a reduction in fuel subsidies, supports the central bank's decision to keep borrowing costs elevated. Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) last week pointed to sustained strength in the economy.

JAPAN

GOVT CUTS GDP GROWTH OUTLOOK TO 0.9% IN FY24

The economic growth of Japan for the current business year to next March will likely be 0.9%, revised downward from the initially estimated 1.3%, as inflation hurts private consumption and the auto industry is hit by safety test scandals, the government said on Friday. In its midyear report, the Cabinet Office more than halved its outlook for private consumption, accounting for over half of the economy, to a 0.5% rise from the 1.2% forecast in January. The downward revisions underscore challenges the economy faces in ensuring steady growth at a time when inflation is hurting domestic demand. Auto production and shipments have been hit by a series of revelations that Japanese automakers used improper data for vehicle certification. The forecasts are still more upbeat than the average estimate of a 0.44% rise in real GDP in a survey of economists by the Japan Center for Economic Research.

CHINA

IMF RAISES GDP GROWTH FORECAST

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) on Tuesday raised China's GDP growth forecast for 2024 to 5% in its latest World Economic Outlook (WEO). It points to a steady rebound in domestic consumption and a surge in exports. The move also indicates growing global confidence in the outlook for the world's second-largest economy. Coming a day after China reported 5% GDP growth for the first half of 2024, the IMF's upward revision of its forecast showed improving expectations for a stable and sound rebound in the Chinese economy, despite lingering challenges, experts said. In its WEO update for July, the IMF projected China's GDP will grow by 5 percent in 2024, which represents an upward revision of 0.4 percentage points compared with the April WEO report. The revised projection is also in line with a 5% growth forecast announced by IMF officials in May.

Forex kitty up by $10 billion to $667 billion

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE country's forex reserves, a key monetary defence against external risks, have rallied by a whopping $10 billion to touch an all-time high of $666.85 billion as of the week ending July 12, boosted by the heavy inflow into government debt after its inclusion into a global debt index from late last month.

According to the latest data released Friday by the Reserve Bank, the forex reserves have jumped by a hefty $9.69 billion to touch an all-time high of $666.85 billion for the week to July 12.

However, despite the record rally in the reserves, the rupee has plumbed a new life-time low and it has been shedding this week. After closing a lifetime low of 83.66 Thursday, the unit continued to head south today and lost 03 paise against the greenback to close at 83.69 on Friday. The continuing fall of the rupee is surprising because normally, when forex inflows are higher, the rupee gains unless there is also a simultaneous demand for dollar from the banks/importer which would weaken the local currency. But this week being a mid-month week, there is no reason for a higher dollar demand.

Govt may simplify TDC/TCS framework in Union Budget 2024

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

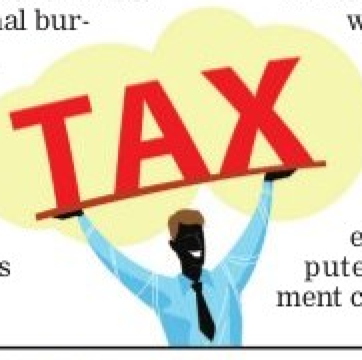
Consolidating rates to enhance clarity: Experts

Experts suggest consolidating multitude of rates into just two or three would enhance clarity and ease of compliance. For example, the differentiation between fees for technical services (2%) and fees for professional services (10%) remains ambiguous, further complicating compliance

The government may announce major reforms in the existing tax deducted at source (TDS) and tax collected at source (TCS) framework, as these are overly complex and burdensome for taxpayers, sources told TNIE.

Currently, the TDS regime encompasses 40 provisions, with rates that range from a 0.1% to a staggering 40%, leading to confusion and compliance challenges for businesses. "Current TDS/TCS structure is complex. The government wants to simplify it and bring relief to the taxpayers," the source said.

As per experts, current structure, with its varying rates and overlapping provisions, not only complicates compliance but also results in cash flow blockages for industries. The additional burden of interest on refunds further adds to the financial strain on businesses, as they navigate the intricate set of rules and regulations.

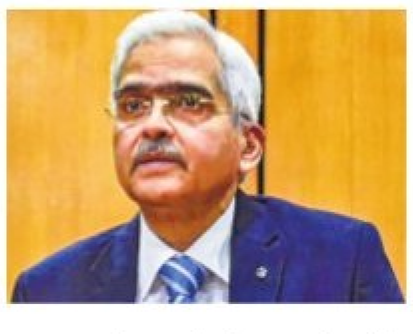


Experts suggest consolidating multitude of rates into just two or three would enhance clarity and ease of compliance. For example, the differentiation between fees for technical services (2%) and fees for professional services (10%) remains ambiguous, further complicating compliance.

There are currently 33 sections dealing with various payments to residents, each with different TDS rates. The organisation noted that this inconsistency creates confusion among taxpayers and leads to disputes regarding payment classifications.

Reserve Bank raises concern over falling deposit mobilisation

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai



Banks' deposits falling way behind lending

Deposits accretion by banks have been falling way behind lending since the pandemic, households having parking their savings in higher return assets like stocks and mutual funds, forcing banks to either offer higher prices for deposits or raise debt capital like long term infra bonds

WARNING banks and non-banks in particular and all lenders in general again over the falling deposit mobilisation and increasing credit offtake, leading to asset liability mismatches, Governor Shaktikanta Das has said the Reserve Bank has is reviewing the liquidity coverage ratio framework to address the emerging issues.

"To meet the Basel III liquidity standards, deposit insurance and resolution tools, it's imperative that our banks put in place prudent liquidity management measures proactively. It has to be borne in mind that incorrect valuation of liquid assets can give a false sense of short-term liquidity resiliency, which is not desirable.

"Therefore, the Reserve Bank, on its part, is reviewing the liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) framework to address the emerging issues. This will be done after detailed public and stakeholder consultations," Das told a function organised by a financial newspaper here on Friday.

It can be noted that deposits accretion by banks have been falling way behind lending since the pandemic, households having parking their savings in higher return assets like stocks and mutual funds, forcing banks to either offer higher prices for deposits or raise debt capital like long term infra bonds. In the past fortnight alone, almost all public sector banks have launched special fixed deposit schemes offering up to 7.3% interest rates for 366-666 days fixed deposits on one hand and on the other, they have mopped up over Rs 40,000 crore from infra bonds during this time.

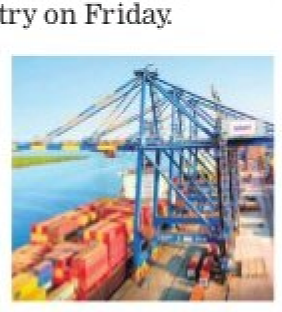
Portal for non-tariff barriers in 2-3 months

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AN online platform designed for the registration and resolution of non-tariff barriers (NTBs) affecting exporters is anticipated to launch within the next two-three months, said Rajesh Agarwal, additional secretary with Commerce Ministry on Friday.



While briefing the media, he stated that the portal addressing SPS (sanitary and phytosanitary measures) and TBT (technical barriers to trade) issues will focus on three key areas, including gathering feedback from exporters and developing a strategy for resolution. "...The portal will also help us in monitoring all the work done to resolve those issues. In the next two-three months hopefully, we will roll it out," Agarwal said. Significant Indian exports that frequently encounter substantial barriers include chillies, tea, basmati rice, milk, poultry, bovine meat, fish, and chemical products to the EU. Additionally, exports such as sesame seeds, black tiger shrimps, medicines, and apparel face challenges in Japan.

Nadal in Bastad semis after 4-hour marathon

Rafael Nadal fought into the semifinals of the Bastad Open in Sweden on Friday as he defeated Argentina's Mariano Navone 6-7 (2/7), 7-5, 7-5 in three hours and 59 minutes. The 22-time Grand Slam champion is through to the last four of a tournament for the first time since Wimbledon two years ago. "It was very close, long and tiring," said Nadal.

More than half of India's individual Olympic medallists from 2008 have found themselves on Pardiwala's operating table. In an interview to Swaroop Swaminathan, Pardiwala, the contingent's chief medical officer (CMO), speaks about the stories, how he handles the dynamics of the bond between a doctor and an athlete...

Dinshaw Pardiwala inside his office in the KDA Hospital in Mumbai. His room is adorned by priceless memorabilia dropped off by the athletes who have been treated by him over the last 16 years or so | SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN

MEND IT LIKE PARDIWALA

PARIS 2024

INDIA still doesn't have a proper sports museum. A few of the country's sporting cathedrals do have priceless memorabilia and old anecdotes tucked away. For example, the Rajindra Gymkhana and Mahindra Club in Patiala have the origin story of the Patiala Peg. But, by and large, there isn't a single space dedicated to celebrating India's myriad athletes and their stories.

The closest is an unlikely location. It's inside a two-room office in the sports medicine department at the Kokilaben Dhirubhai Ambani Hospital in Mumbai. Akhil Kumar's gloves. Seema Antil's discus. Mahesh Bhupathi's racquet. Neeraj Chopra's javelin. One of the jerseys of the country's record-setting, history-writing Thomas Cup team from 2022. Miniature bats left behind by Indian cricketers with their autographs.

Dinshaw Pardiwala, who calls this two-room office his workspace, is explaining to this daily the jersey of that 2022 Thomas Cup team. That's when it hits. You can draw a straight line from all of India's great sporting tales to Pardiwala's scalpel. Neeraj Chopra's gold? Pardiwala mended the javelin ace's elbow before Tokyo. The all-conquering Thomas Cup team? The doctor has mended the bones or worked on the knees of most of the people on that team. PV Sindhu, the 2019 world champion and two-time Olympic medallist? Pardiwala has worked with her. Saina Nehwal? Another tick. MS Dhoni? Check. Put another check mark next to the colomn marked Rishabh Pant, who went from fighting for his life to featuring in a World Cup final in 18 months.

In fact, out of the 15 individual Olympic medallists since the Beijing Games, Pardiwala has played some part in the surgery and recovery process of at least 11, either after or before their medals (India has had 17 individual medals, with PV Sindhu and Sushil Kumar winning on two separate occasions). It's why most of India's elite athletes have him on speed dial. An ankle causing a problem? A bone needs to be mended? Pain in the elbow? Back pain? Dial P for Pardiwala.

It also explains why the doctor will be, in a first of its kind initiative by the Indian Olympic Association (IOA), in Paris for the entire duration of the Olympics as the contingent's Chief Medical Officer (CMO).

****

When Pardiwala is talking about injuries — the one Bajrang Punia had in the lead-up to the Tokyo Games, for example — he's careful to avoid talking about specifics. It can be a bit like walking on eggshells to not reveal information in the media which could alert rival athletes about recent injuries.

It's why he has had discussions with athletes post their surgeries. "Few of the discussions we have had with athletes post their surgeries has been... 'you have undergone surgery this morning and you have put up a post about it in the evening. Why would you want to do that'?" He says social media has played a big role in the ever-changing dynamics between an injured celebrity athlete and an expectant fanbase. "In the past, a lot of people didn't know about athletes' injuries. No one was aware of it and it was great. Now, with social media that has changed. Athletes themselves put up stuff and disclose what they have. Sometimes, as doctors, we are surprised. Why would you want to disclose to an opponent that you have had this particular injury." The mind immediately harked back to a time when Anant Joshi's scalpel was rather familiar with various Indian cricketers but the information itself used to come from the media as there was no social media at the time.

Because of Pardiwala's reputation, he's also in a somewhat unique position of treating rivals (K Srikanth and HS Prannoy or Narsingh Yadav and Sushil Kumar or PV Sindhu and Saina Nehwal). Thanks to the 'bond' he has established with all of them, there are no problems with respect to trust.

"For us, as doctors, first and foremost, the responsibility is with the individual athlete," he says. "There is a doctor-patient bond, similarly there is also a doctor-athlete bond. Now, just because you treat one athlete, it doesn't exclude you from having a bond with a competing athlete. Most athletes recognise that. In saying that, athletes also recognise that as doctors, we do have confidentiality as far as medical issues are concerned. We (the team at the Hospital who he is quick to credit) would never let athletes' medical information be divulged to another athlete."

At some level, Pardiwala isn't just required to be a surgeon. His knife is equipped to cut through skin but, first, his words will have to soothe frayed minds and scrambled hearts. So, he has to also play the role of a mental conditioner.

"It's always important to be truthful with them (when they come in after a bad injury)," he says. "What most of them are after is the path back to competitive sports and how much time it's going to take to get there? So, you break it down into incremental steps. First step is the surgery. Second is the recovery from the surgery. Third comes being able to walk normally. Fourth is when you recover your strength and so on. There are so many milestones in this process. Take it one step at a time."

He framed this through the prism of a child wanting to become a neurosurgeon. "Yes, it's nice to have those long term goals but it's also good to be realistic. It's important to clear those short term ones. When a kid says they want to become a neurosurgeon for example, they first have to finish 7th standard, 8th, pass out of school, pick medicine... the carrot is always there but there's no point in thinking about the carrot all the time. For them (athletes) to overcome grief and trauma and start participating in the recovery process and for that hunger to come back, you have to complete those small steps (with the full buy in)."

This step-by-step process can also be seen in Pardiwala's own career. "I was always interested in sports," he says. "I actively played sports, first competitively and then recreational. Once I got into medicine, it was in orthopaedics. When you are in the branch of sports medicine, most of your patients are athletes. "The 2008 Olympics was the first I was actively involved in. We had one of our athletes who was injured. (Boxer) Akhil Kumar had injured his wrist. After we worked on him, he won gold at the Asian qualifiers where he was also adjudged boxer of the event." It may be more than 16 years removed from the surgery but these are the stories the surgeon has close to his chest.

****

In Paris, Pardiwala will have no favourites. He has worked with a substantial number of the Indian contingent at some point in time or another. But he will have a wide grin on his face if Vinesh Phogat manages to complete her medal haul. "She has had so many injuries (Pardiwala is the one who worked on her knee after the Rio Games) but she has shown grit to come back from all of them. This is the last sort of unachieved goal for her. It would be a good moment."

From a wider perspective, having Pardiwala on standby 24/7 will give athletes an insurance policy, a familiar face in a foreign land. However, here's the paradox. If they don't see him in Paris, they would all have had a healthy, safe and, potentially, a winning Olympics. And that's what the doctor would like too.

5-STAGE PROCESS

5 STEP Goal
Getting back to competitive sport after months of rehab. This is usually the five steps we take our athletes through.

4 STEP End of tunnel
Working with the strength and conditioning coach. Weight loss because you are deconditioned.

3 STEP Long process
Starting to walk. Long drawn out process but tell them one step away from surgery and one step closer to goal.

2 STEP First sign of rehab
Recovery from surgery. Two-four weeks; slow and steady. Other stakeholders including physios enter.

1 STEP Operation
Surgery is the first step. Four to six hours and it's over. Very short process and it's in our (doctor) control.

> It's always important to be truthful with them (after injuries). What most of them are after is the path back to competitive sports & how much time it's going to take to get there? So, you break it down into incremental steps – Dinshaw Pardiwala

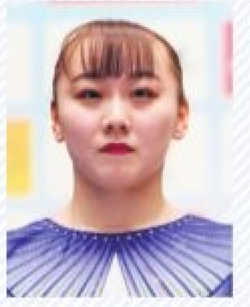
Oz hockey player amputates part of finger for Olympics

SYDNEY: Australian hockey player Matt Dawson has made the ultimate sacrifice to be at the Olympics by having part of his finger amputated in order to play. The 30-year-old, who was a member of the silver medal-winning team in Tokyo, recently broke the ring finger on his right hand, plunging his bid to compete at a third Olympics into doubt. Doctors advised him to put it in a cast and let it recover or have the top cut off. He opted for the latter, undergoing surgery this week. "I made an informed decision with the plastic surgeon at the time not only for the opportunity to play in Paris but for life after as well," he told Australia's Channel Seven as he boarded the plane to France. "The best option was for me to take the top of my finger off."

Japan gymnast pulled from Games for smoking & drinking



TOKYO: Gymnast Shoko Miyata has been pulled from Japan's team for the Games after being caught smoking and drinking. The 19-year-old, captain of Japan's women's gymnastics team for the Games, was sent home from their training camp in Monaco & admitted she had violated their code of conduct. Japan Gymnastics Association secretary Kenji Nishimura said the association had been told that Miyata was seen smoking in a private setting in Tokyo some time at the end of June or beginning of July.

Paris shops, restaurants say event hammering business

PARIS: Paris shops, restaurants, bars and clubs are facing an "unprecedented slump in business and footfall", trade groups said on Friday, blaming in part the "heavy security measures" imposed ahead of the Olympic Games starting July 26. "Despite optimistic forecasts, activity has been down since June, many professionals have seen their revenue fall by 30 percent compared with previous years," a group of restaurant, hotel, retail and nightspot unions said in a joint statement. Their businesses are suffering from tourists avoiding the capital, unfavourable weather, inflation, a tense political situation after President Emmanuel Macron called snap elections, and the Olympic security measures, they said.

Russian athletes breached rules on Ukraine war: Report

PARIS: Two thirds of the Russian athletes approved by the International Olympic Committee to compete in Paris as neutrals have expressed support for Moscow's invasion of Ukraine or have links to the military, according to a new report. 15 Russians & 16 Belarusians have accepted invitations to compete under a neutral banner at the Games, according to the IOC. Athletes from the two countries were banned from world sport following the Russian invasion of Ukraine in February 2022, but the IOC has overseen their gradual return under a neutral banner, subject to strict conditions. Global Rights Compliance said in a report that 10 out of the 15 Russians have been found to be in violation of "the principles of participation" of neutral athletes.

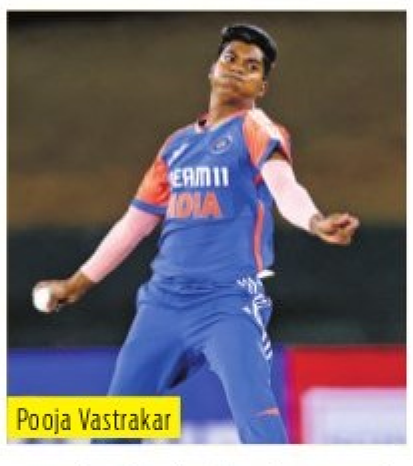
ASIA CUP

Easy win for India against Pakistan in opener

KALYANI MANGALE @ Chennai

THE women's T20 World Cup scheduled in Bangladesh is approaching soon. Every move made by the ten teams will be under scanner till the tournament. Traditionally, Bangladesh has been a heaven for the spinners. Take for example the Women's Asia Cup in 2022. In the tournament, which lasted for 24 fixtures, the top 11 wicket-takers were tweakers before India's Renuka Singh Thakur made it to the list. Whenever the teams visited Bangladesh, the question was, how early would bowling captain introduce the spinners? India have followed the pattern in the past so much so that when they toured Bangladesh in 2023, in one of the T20Is, Harmanpreet Kaur employed 19 overs of spin, including seven overs of part-time spin (Jemimah Rodrigues and Shafali Verma).

Times have changed significantly since that series. At least from an Indian point of view, Pooja Vastrakar has made a comeback as an opening bowler in the shortest format. In the latest tour of Bangladesh in May 2024, Vastrakar was not the highest wicket-taker for India, but she and Bangladesh's teenage pacer, Marufa Akter, were amongst the bowlers with the lowest economy.



Pooja Vastrakar

The ongoing Asia Cup is the rehearsal for the World Cup, at least for four teams from the continent. If the opening match for India and Pakistan in Sri Lanka was any indication, where former dominated in all aspects, Vastrakar has made sure she has put her hat in the ring to take the new ball in the World Cup. Such has been her impact with the ball that she bowled in all seven fixtures in India's multi-format series against South Africa and also took the Player of the Series in the T20I leg.

"I think it's just brilliant to watch her," India's vice captain Smriti Mandhana had praised the bowler after the final T20I. "The way she bowled on the flat wicket and for her to come back with those sorts of figures, it was amazing. Hopefully, she keeps doing the same thing again. She'll be really crucial going into the World Cup."

While spinners did take five wickets against Pakistan and Thakur was the more economical pacer, Vastrakar did her job while giving away 13 runs and taking two wickets in the powerplay. Pakistan were no match for India as the defending champions registered a 7-wicket win. Brief scores: Pakistan 108 in 19.2 ovs (Deepti 3/20, Vastrakar 2/31) lost to India 109/3 in 14.1 ovs (Mandhana 45, Shafali 40).

AIFF shortlists 20 candidates for head coach's job

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

ALL India Football Federation's (AIFF) acting secretary general M Satyanarayan on Friday said the sports body has drawn up a shortlist of 20 "competent" candidates for the job of the Indian men's team head coach. The position was left vacant after the sacking of Igor Stimac, following the Indian team's failure to reach the third round of FIFA World Cup Qualifiers after losses to Qatar and Afghanistan.

"We have shortlisted a few coaches, you can say around 20, and we have also written to some of them to see if, from the time they have applied to now, they are still available because lots of people are signing up," Satyanarayan said.

India reduced emission intensity vis-à-vis its GDP by 33% between 2005 and 2019, thus achieving the initial nationally determined contribution target for 2030, 11 years ahead of schedule

TAMIL NADU RANKS 3rd ON SDGs LEADS IN CLIMATE ACTION: NITI AAYOG

S V KRISHNA CHAITANYA @Chennai

THE fourth edition of NITI Aayog's SDG India Index 2023-24 gave Tamil Nadu the pole position in terms of climate action and poverty eradication, and third overall in its state-wise ranking.

The SDG India Index was conceived in 2018 following the need for a monitoring framework to track the progress in implementing the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) - adopted by 193 countries at the United Nations General Assembly in 2015 - in the country. It is the most comprehensive policy measurement and ranking tool to gauge the performance at the sub-national level.

The composite score for each state/UT was computed by aggregating their performance across the goals, taking the arithmetic mean of individual goal scores. The composite score ranges from 0 to 100 and denotes the overall effort of the state/UT in achieving the targets under the goals.

At the national level, the composite score for India improved from 66 in 2020-21 to 71 in 2023-24. This indicates that the country has accelerated its progress on the SDGs despite global headwinds. Significant progress was observed in Goals 1 (No Poverty), 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth) and 13 (Climate Action). Goal 13 recorded the highest increase in score from 54 to 67 followed by Goal 1 from 60 to 72.

The SDG India Index 2023-24 scores for states range from 57 to 79, while for UTs they range between 65 and 77. This marks an improvement over the 2020-21 scores, where states ranged from 52 to 75, and UTs from 62 to 79. Uttarakhand and Kerala were at the top of the overall table with scores of 79 each, while Tamil Nadu took the third spot followed by Goa and Himachal Pradesh.

Tamil Nadu scored above the average national score in most of the SDGs and improved substantially in climate action. The state's proactive push comes at a time when stark realities are staring in its face — 43% of its coastline is eroding, weather patterns are undergoing transformation, and the influx of industries is exerting immense pressure on land and water resources.

To reduce their negative impacts, the state government has launched ambitious missions and international collaborations. Chief Minister M K Stalin was confident that the state would achieve net zero by 2050, which is 20 years ahead of India's target of reaching the goal. It needs to be seen whether Tamil Nadu would walk the talk.

Additional Chief Secretary Supriya Sahu said the government isn't merely framing policies but setting realistic targets with tangible actions to achieve them. The establishment of the Tamil Nadu Green Climate Fund (TNGCF) with a substantial fund size of Rs 1,000 crore exemplifies the financial commitment to climate change mitigation projects.

However, not everyone is convinced. Environmental advocacy groups acknowledge the proactive steps taken by the government but raise concerns about certain projects, like the proposed second airport in Parandur, which will have potential environmental repercussions.

The year 2023 served as a stark reminder of the devastating impacts of climate change. Cyclone Michaung inundated Chennai, followed by unprecedented rainfall in south Tamil Nadu. The World Meteorological Organisation declared 2023 as the hottest year ever recorded.

In this context, the response of countries, states and local bodies becomes pivotal in mitigating the ill-effects of climate change.

The industrialised nature of Tamil Nadu, coupled with its appeal to new investments, necessitates a meticulous consideration of climate change in the appraisal of new projects and infrastructural development, especially in coastal areas. The state must strike a delicate balance between economic growth and environmental conservation.

Supriya Sahu defends the state's initiatives by emphasising that individual weather events cannot be directly attributed to climate change. However, the increasing frequency and intensity of such events align with predictions about climate change impacts. The District Climate Mission, spanning all 38 districts, has institutionalised adaptation at the local government planning level, involving various departments in climate adaptation responsibilities. Apart from climate action, Tamil Nadu has shown progress in a number of other SDG goals.

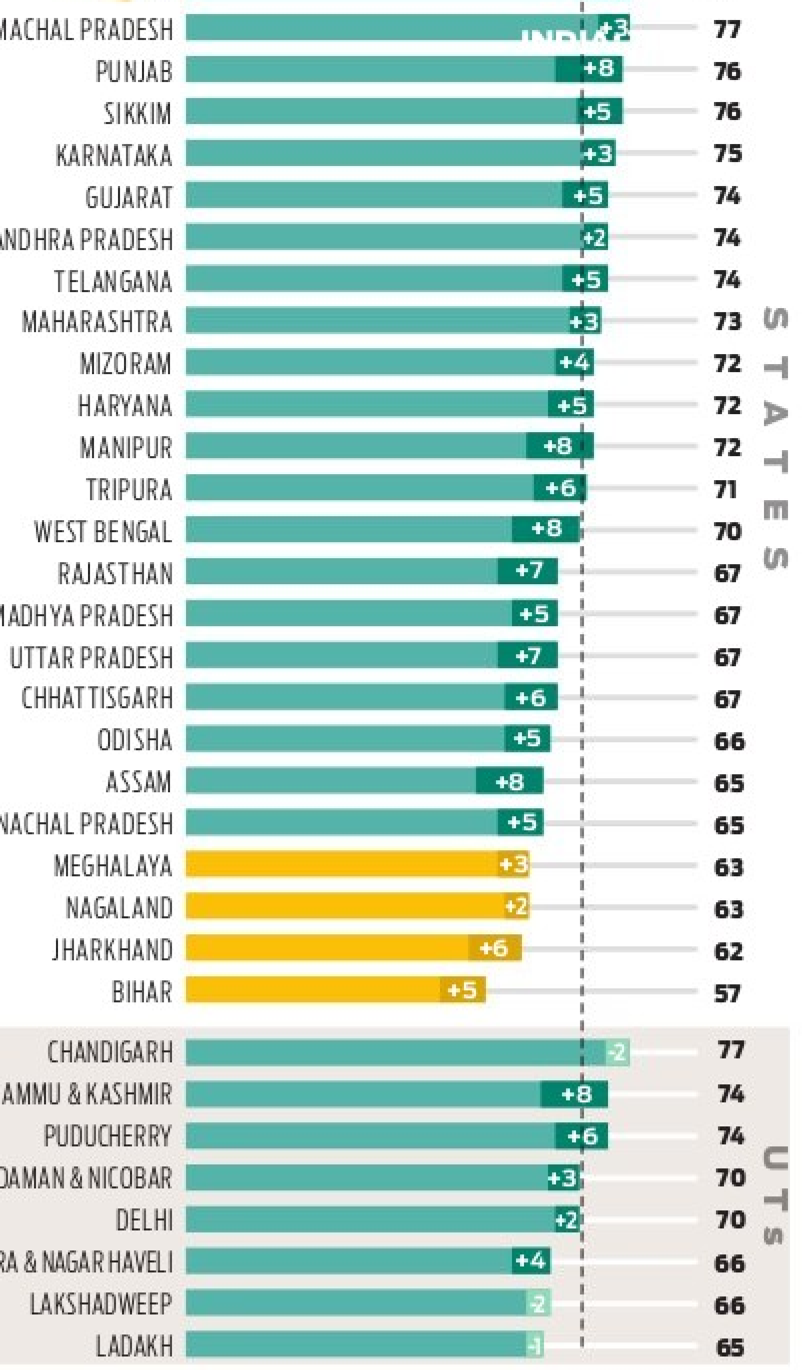
PERFORMANCE OF STATES AND UTs ON SDGs



Sizing up EU's carbon tax on Indian imports

ISSAC JAMES MANAYATH @Chennai

THE European Union disturbed the global level playing field last year by adopting a Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM), under which carbon-intensive goods such as iron, steel, cement, fertilisers and aluminum that are imported from various countries, including India, will be subject to an additional tax. The policy has since sparked a lot of debate and criticism.

The EU, however, says it is designed to ensure a domestic level playing field for local and global manufacturers. But critics see it as a protectionist measure designed to weaken the competitiveness of exports from developing countries. India, for whom the European Union is a key trading partner, has also raised its voice against the policy.

Now, a study has found that the proposed mechanism would impose an average tax burden of 25% over and above the value of CBAM-covered goods exported to the EU from India. As per the study by the Centre for Science and Environment (CSE), titled The Global South's Response to a Changing Trade Regime in the Era of Climate Change, the losses accrued to India's exporters would amount to 0.05% of the country's GDP.

EU calls it a 'fair price'

The European Union calls CBAM a tool to put a fair price on the carbon emitted during the production of goods entering the bloc. Producers within the European Union are subject to the bloc's strict environmental standards that are designed to meet its climate objectives. This, however, adds to the cost of production. Therefore, the EU argues, when goods made in countries with less stringent standards enter the bloc, they would put domestic producers at a disadvantage. "By confirming that a price has been paid for the embedded carbon emissions generated in the production of certain goods imported into the EU, the CBAM will ensure the carbon price of imports is equivalent to the carbon price of domestic production," the European Commission said.

With a mix of traditional poetry and fusion beats, Bengaluru band The Raghu Dixit Project will light up the upcoming 2024 Paris Olympics with their performances, exemplifying the diversity of Indian music

THE PARIS PLAYLIST

MONIKA MONALISA

SINGER Raghu Dixit's music has always highlighted the diversity of Indian music, particularly its rich folk traditions. The city-based musician has enjoyed a growing international appeal, and later this month, his band, The Raghu Dixit Project, is set to perform for a global audience at the 2024 Paris Olympics, set to be held from July 26 to August 11. The band will perform at the Olympic House of India, in the Parc de la Villette, on July 29 and 30, with an hour-long performance each day.

Having represented India many times in the past, Dixit, the frontman of the band, says the joy of representing the country never fades. "It is always an honour to represent India. For a couple of years, we performed at Cannes for the India Pavilion. The best part is that the show will be open to the public and not just to delegates," says Dixit on a call from Europe, where he is touring with his latest album Shakkar.

While looking forward to a good turnout, Dixit notes that the energy during his concerts is always high, irrespective of the turnout. "During my concerts, everyone has to dance – that's the rule we follow. It doesn't matter who is in the audience; everyone simply has to," he quips.

The music lineup will include traditional poetry by Shishunala Sharif, a 19th-century poet. "We also have some poetry by Kabir and Kannada poet DR Bendre. You can expect a lot of fusion music," Dixit reveals. The idea behind the musical lineup is to bring the Indian philosophy to stage. "All the songs speak about recognising our strengths. So, we are hoping that both the audience and athletes find their inner strength to push their limits," he explains.

It's not just the music that will be a treat; Dixit, known for his folksy attire and ghungroo (a brass musical anklet), promises a new look for the performance. "We are currently out with the album, so we have a new look. Bengaluru designers Sanjay and Seema worked on that look," says Dixit. The Raghu Dixit Project will be joined by other Indian and Indian-origin artistes, Shaan, Penn Masala, and Tommy Khosla & Jawari, who will also be performing at the mega sporting event.

ANJANEYASANA LATERAL EXTENSION KNEE OVER ANKLE

(CRESCENT LOW LUNGE POSE LATERAL EXTENSION KNEE OVER ANKLE)

This is an intermediate-level, challenging lateral-bend variation of the Anjaneyasana (Crescent Low Lunge Pose). This pose activates the Anahata Chakra. It stretches the intercostal muscles, which help to energise the body by stimulating the flow of blood and oxygen to the muscles and organs. It also helps release stress and tension from the back, neck, and shoulders, promoting a sense of vitality and well-being.

STEPS

- Bend your left leg in front, keeping the knee aligned with your ankle. Extend your right leg behind you with the knee on the floor and the foot extended.
- Ensure your back knee is kept far away when you bring your hips down and forward.
- Inhale and lift your upper body, and keep your hands either on the hips or on the knees in Low Lunge Hands To Knee. Stay here for a few breaths.
- Keep your chest lifted and shoulders relaxed.
- Ensure the front (left) thigh is parallel to the floor. The back leg (right) remains straight and strong. Find the balance.
- Inhale, and open your arms out at shoulder level with your palms facing down.
- Lengthen your torso upwards. Exhale, twist, and turn the upper body to the right, taking your right arm behind and your left arm in front.
- Inhale, and as you exhale, drop your right arm down on the back leg's (right) calf or thigh. Inhale and extend your left hand upwards.
- Exhale and slowly bend sideways. Keep your face aligned with the chest, and look at any point on the right.
- Stay here for about six breaths. If you lose balance, release your arms and relax the neck before adjusting the legs.
- Release the pose and align the body in Adho Mukha Svanasana.
- Stay here for a breath or two. Counter the stretch on the other side (left).
- Finally, release in Balasana and relax.

BENEFITS

- Stretches the intercostal muscles, rib cage, abdominal area, psoas, shoulders, and arms.
- Brings stability and balance to both sides of the spine and various muscles.
- Included in heart-opening yoga sequences.
- Improves flexibility of the rib cage.
- Tones the leg muscles.
- Helps maintain the natural curvature of the spine.
- Reduces stress and tension stored either in the upper or lower body.
- Creates a smooth flow of prana throughout the body.
- Helps regulate secretions by various glands in the body.
- Removes excess belly and thigh fat.
- Opens the shoulders, arm, chest, hips, and legs.
- Addresses issues related to menopause, fertility issues, or menstrual irregularities.

LIMITATIONS

- Students with injuries at knee, ankle, legs, hips, back, rib cage, shoulders, or arms, or who have undergone any recent surgery to their spinal, shoulder, knee, or hip surgery, have weak knees, arthritis, general body weakness, HBP, dizziness, vertigo, migraine, or heart-related ailments, trauma, anxiety, IBD, etc., should avoid this pose.
- Pregnant and postnatal women and seniors should avoid this.

A TOAST TO TRADITION

INDIA is a land of vibrant culture and diverse landscapes and boasts a rich tapestry of culinary traditions. One fascinating aspect of this is the array of indigenous alcoholic beverages, that are more than just alcoholic concoctions. They showcase the ingenuity and resourcefulness of local communities, utilising indigenous ingredients to create unique and flavourful drinks, which offer a glimpse into the cultural soul of India. The colourful land of Punjab offers the robust Desi Daru, a homemade whiskey crafted with local ingredients. Known for its robust and strong flavours, it makes for a popular choice in rural areas. The unique Lassi Beer, on the other hand, is a creamy and tangy yoghurt-based beer.

In Goa, the potent Feni, distilled from cashew apples or coconut palm sap, packs a punch and is often enjoyed straight or in cocktails. The lighter Urrack, a traditional Goan spirit, is a refreshing summer drink with a milder taste and lower alcohol content.

Moving South, Arrack, a distilled alcoholic drink, made from coconut or palm sap, has a strong, slightly sweet taste and Arak, the anise-flavoured spirit, commonly consumed in the Middle East, has a distinct liquorice taste and is usually diluted with water before drinking. Kerala boasts of both Toddy and Kallu, naturally fermented palm wines offering sweet and slightly sour flavours – enjoyed fresh and locally tapped.

In central India, Mahua and Chhapak, traditional liquors made from Mahua flowers with unique sweet and earthy notes are cherished drinks among the local communities and deeply rooted in the cultural practices of the region. Uttarakhand offers the smoky Gudka, a homemade whiskey with a rich smoky flavour; the robust Rara is perfect for chilly evenings.

Assam celebrates Lugdi, a mild rice beer with a slightly sour taste brewed using fermented rice. The stronger Sulai is another rice beer variety often consumed during local festivities. Himachal Pradesh has its own version of Rara and the refreshing apple cider, called Shakti, made from Himalayan apples is a must-have for tourists.

Uttar Pradesh features strong and flavorful country liquor with a rustic taste -- Hariya and Tharra. They are known for their intense flavour, high alcohol content with deep roots in the region's culture.

Rajasthan adds a touch of luxury with Kesar Kasturi, a saffron-flavoured liqueur, with a rich aromatic profile and the light and crisp Rajasthani Chhaang, a barley beer which has a light and crisp flavour.

So, the next time you raise a glass, consider exploring the diverse and fascinating world of India's traditional alcoholic beverages. You might discover a new favourite, and gain a deeper appreciation for the rich tapestry of Indian culture.

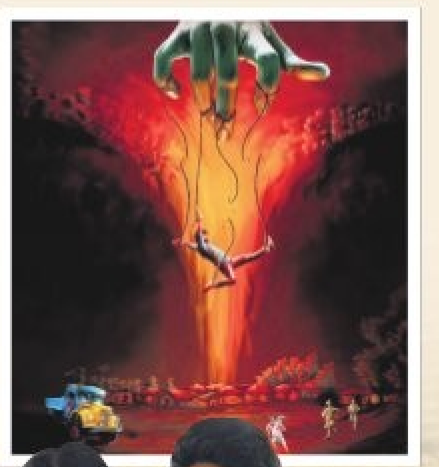
A RIVETING EXPEDITION INTO PARALLEL REALITIES AND EVOCATIVE EMOTIONAL BONDS

HEJJARU
Director: Harshapriya
Cast: Gopal Krishna Deshpande, Bhagat Alva, Shwetha D'Souze, Muniraju, and Naveen Krishna



RATING 3/5

A SHARADHAA

HARSHAPRIYA, who comes from a background in television serials, makes a striking foray into feature film direction with Hejjaru. Eschewing conventional cinema tropes, he bravely ventures into the world of parallel lives—a rare and compelling subject in Indian cinema that forms the crux of this intriguing exploration. The film surpasses mere narrative conventions, and this is what initially captures interest—an exploration of interconnected lives and unresolved emotions.

Hejjaru is rooted in the treatment of the parallel lives concept, where similar incidents unfold across different eras. At its core is the story of Rajaram (Gopal Krishna Deshpande), who grapples with profound loss following the tragic death of his beloved during adolescence in 1965. His relentless quest for answers leads him to intersect with Bhagat (Bhagat Alva), born in 1995. The narrative traces Bhagat's life from his childhood in 2005 to the present, revealing parallels with Rajaram's own experiences.

A pivotal aspect emerges when Bhagat's life mirrors Rajaram's in unexpected ways, particularly in his relationship with Janaki (Shwetha D'Souza), affectionately known as Jaanu. Despite their mutual feelings, Janaki, an orphan, faces unwanted attention from Bhupathi (Vinod Bharathi). Meanwhile, the manipulative and corrupt police officer Dharma (Muniraju) and village thug Devi (Naveen Krishna) bring further complexity to Bhagat's journey.

The film intertwines these narratives, illustrating how Bhagat navigates his connections with these influential figures, all the while mirroring Rajaram's past challenges and unresolved emotions. As Rajaram inches closer to uncovering the truth, his quest intensifies with the revelation of the real killer. This pivotal moment sets the stage for an exhilarating pre-climax sequence, where anticipation reaches its peak. This blend of mystery and personal stakes promises an engaging experience.

Set in Ujire, Hejjaru utilises its locations as pivotal backdrops intricately woven into the narrative, adding depth and authenticity to the film's setting. The visuals, guided by cinematographer Amar Gowda, capture the essence of each era depicted—from the nostalgic ambience of the 1960s to the vibrant hues of the 1990s and beyond to 2020. This visual journey enhances the film's exploration of time and interconnectedness, complementing the narrative crafted by Director Harshapriya.

Nakul Abhyankar's music equally fuels Hejjaru, commanding viewers' attention and breathing life into emotional scenes. The limited cast delivers compelling performances, with Gopal Krishna Deshpande embodying the anguish and determination of Rajaram, Bhagat Alva bringing youthful vigour to his journey of self-discovery reminiscent of Aniissh from Nam Areal Ond Dina, and Shwetha D'Souza playing a soulful character as Jaanu, supported by Aruna Balraj in a significant part of the plot.

Supporting characters, including Naveen Krishna, Muniraju, and Vinod Bharathi, contribute to the overarching themes of fate and human connection.

Hejjaru is a bold and creative achievement, marking an impressive debut for director Harshapriya, inviting audiences to delve into a profound exploration of human connections and the passage of time. Harshapriya's expertise, shaped by their television background, offers both intellectual stimulation and emotional resonance. With strong performances and meticulous direction, Hejjaru is a good watch for cinephiles and those drawn to thought-provoking narratives.

A newborn's tale of survival amidst action-packed drama

A SHARADHAA

HIRANYA
Director: Prawin Avyukth
Cast: Rajavardan, Rihana, Divya Suresh, and Dileep Shetty

RATING 2.5/5

PRAWIN Ayvukth, having had experience making short films, aimed to make a mark with a commercial entertainer. He enlisted actor Rajavardan, recognised for his roles in historical films like Bicchugatti and the subsequent romantic drama Pranayam, to bring his vision to life. With Prawin's directorial Hiranya, Rajavardan takes on a new challenge portraying an angry young man turned action hero.

The film, drawing inspiration from lesser-known flicks, underwent significant script revisions to work around the raw action. In this suspense thriller, the joy of a wealthy couple lives a short life as the husband dies in a car accident shortly after their wedding. Months later, the widow gives birth to their child, only to find herself and the baby targeted by an unknown assassin. Despite several attempts, the assassin fails to harm the child. Sensing the danger, the mother seeks help from her friend Dileep, a police inspector determined to protect them.

Desperate to complete his mission, the assassin hires a local contractor to kidnap or kill the baby. The contractor enlists Raana (played by Rajavardan), the perfect man for the job. Raana clashes with the police and abducts the baby. As Raana flees with the baby, intending to finish the job, an unexpected incident changes him. He evolves from a potential killer to a protector, now committed to saving the child while evading both the police and the criminals pursuing them.

The story poses a chilling question: who poses the real threat—the overzealous police inspector (Dileep Shetty), the ruthless gangster, or the unforeseen saviour?

Beginning as a suspenseful tale, the narrative evolves with emotional depth and intermittent bursts of action. It delves into the evolving relationship between Raana, portrayed with animalistic intensity, and the baby who unexpectedly alters his life. As Raana's humanity awakens, he struggles against the circumstances that threaten to define him.

What follows is the bonding that Hiranya finds with the kidnapped baby, sparking a moral transformation where darkness confronts redemption. Packed with intense action sequences showcasing Rajavardan's skills, the stunts are shot in various locations—from desolate grounds to bustling streets and residential areas—immersing viewers in thrilling pursuits and confrontations. Amidst the adrenaline-fuelled sequences, a star emerges: the unnamed newborn, always by Raana's side during daring escapes and intense battles, symbolising vulnerability and hope. Its presence adds emotional depth through cries, giggles, or peaceful moments of rest.

Dileep Shetty's, a resolute police officer, who has an interesting backstory, contrasts sharply with Raana's conflicted character. Rihana as Abhinaya, a grieving widow determined to retrieve her kidnapped child, brings emotional weight to the story. Divya Suresh's brief appearance adds dance and intrigue.

Hiranya, which justifies its tagline Hitman, explores shades of good and evil while crafting a narrative that transcends mere action. The film invites viewers to contemplate the transformative power of unexpected events and choices during moments of conflict. Hiranya's unexpected journey to protect an abducted baby takes audiences on a rollercoaster of action and drama.
